

Construction in Romulus sets new record

Romulus has just experienced its greatest building month with more than $9 million worth of construction applied for in September, according to Building Dept. Director Ed Fall.

"We are very pleased with the productivity of the building department over the past two years and what it has accomplished, especially when compared with the years of 1974-75," Fall said.

Fall, who was appointed as director of the building department by Mayor James C. Stewart in December, 1975, was especially happy with Wayne County Road Commission's announcement to build its new $8.9 million maintenance yard in Romulus.

"The last 21-month period has shown a $50,466 increase in building permit fees over the previous 24 months under the old administration," Fall explained. The figures were $233,674.32 to $183,207.44, he said.

"Total construction during that same time has been $27,604,503.80 for 1976-77 compared to $24,337,936.87 in 1974-75 and overall increase of $3,266, 566.93," Fall said.

Fall says the city of Romulus can be proud of the record totals set in the building department over the past two years.

The city has received $44,302 more in permit fees in the first nine months of 1977 than through all of 1976, according to the report.

There were 63 building permits issued during September which brought in $41,993.50 in fees on $9,277,639.66 worth of construction.

There were four one-family house permits applied for with a total estimated cost of construction set at $146,000. Thirty-five additions and alterations were completed at an estimated cost of $239,519.

Six car ports, costing an estimated $18,925, were applied for and five fences were erected at an expense of $4,485.

Wayne County Road Commission's new maintenance yard will be an $8.9 million, six-building complex located on 38.5 acres of county-owned land near Detroit Metropolitan Airport, between Middlebelt and Merriman roads, off east-bound I-94.

Since the commission's maintenance department is the largest single operation — more than 600 employees — the project includes construction of a 10,000-sq. ft. administrative office building.

In assessing the building department's growth, Fall said, "I feel with the right people in office, this building trend could not only continue, but greatly increase."

City schools get $721,185 in state aid

Romulus and Huron School Districts received almost $1½ million in state aid federal for the months of October and November.

Romulus received $721,185 in state aid and $46,942 in federal assistance, while Huron got $721,000 in state aid.

Students from 15 school districts in the 13th Senatorial District will share $19,884,527 in state school aid payments for the months of October and November, State Senator William Faust announced this week.

Faust said that some of these districts will also receive a total of $771,964 in federal aid for programs specified under Titles I and III of the Elementary-Secondary Education Act of 1965 and the Vocational Education Act of 1963.

Title I funds are used for programs to aid educationally deprived children. Programs funded under Title III finance educationally and culturally disadvantaged children.

Faust said that these state and federal funds are paid during the school year on the first day of August, October, December, February, April and June.

The following school districts received state and federal funds as follows:

Council decides against subsidy for Oakbrooke

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus City Council reversed itself last week and rescinded its earlier approval of a rent subsidy program for Oakbrooke Townhouses on Eureka Road in the south end of the city.

Confronted by Robert Knight, a candidate for city council on the Terry Troutt slate, the council was told that 600 signatures had been taken up in opposition to the Section 8 federal funding program proposed by the Dept. of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

Council voted to concur with the recommendation of Grants Administrator Stephen Bonczek at the Sept. 27 meeting, to give its approval for the new rent subsidy program which guarantees no renter will pay more than 25 percent of his income for rent.

On a motion by William Oakley, supported by Jimmie Raspberry, Council voted 6-1 to concur. In addition to Oakley and Raspberry, Joan Lee, Bob Martin, Junior Block and Gerry Canejo voted yes. Beverly McAnally voted against the proposal.

There was much misunderstanding about Bonczek's recommendation to help the low-income residents of the Oakbrooke Townhouses, which were originally built under the 236 federal program which helped developers get mortgages at a much lower rate of interest. In addition the developer received mortgage insurance under the plan.

Now, HUD has come out with the Section 8 program which it claims will help stabilize the Oakbrooke Townhouse turnover of residents.

Bonczek contends this was his major concern also.

"This Section 8 plan as proposed by HUD was to help residents already in Oakbrooke and not to bring in other low-income families from other areas, Bonczek said.

However, Bonczek says there was poor communication from HUD to his office and that HUD said it originally wanted only 70 units of Oakbrooke's 352 units for the new rent subsidy program.

The day following the Sept. 27 meeting, Bonczek said HUD called and said it wanted 210 Oakbrooke units to be in its Section 8 program.

Oakbrooke subdivision citizens, including Knight, fearful the Section 8 rent subsidy program would bring in a rash of outside low-income families, circulated petitions against the program.

Knight told the council he had more than 600 signature against the subsidy program.

The council voted to reconsider the approval of Section 8 program and later, after much discussion, voted 5-1 to rescind its approval.

Council member Beverly McAnally said, "I would move that the city of Romulus send a communication to HUD objecting to proposed Sect. 8 funding for Oakbrooke." Her motion was supported by Lee and received yes votes from Block, Martin and Canejo.

Oakley stuck to his position, in voting no. "We're trying to get more senior citizen housing into Romulus," Oakley said in casting the lone dissenting vote. Raspberry was absent at last week's meeting.

There was much confusion about Bonczek's proposal and exactly what HUD wanted.

Junior Block was especially outspoken about the proposal.

"This seems to have changed a lot since we discussed this last week from what you explained to us then," Block said.

"I sat here and was quite concerned it was for senior citizens. They were going to check into security and upstairs bath.

"Right now I feel it's been misrepresented to us from what you told us last week. There's a lot here to be desired," Block concluded. Councilman Martin also felt it was misrepresented, or at least came out that way.

"You told us last week and said it was for senior citizens and disabled persons," he told Bonczek.

In calling for city council to reject its approval of Section 8 federal funding, Knight said, "We of Oakbrooke Subdivision protest the action of City Council at Sept. 27 meeting in a proving Sect. 8 for Oakbrooke townhouses.

"We believe two and three-bedroom units will not attract senior citizens. Instead, we believe it will attract families with children which will increase demands for classroom space," Knight said.

"We demand city council rescind its motion by Oakley, supported by Raspberry approving Sect. 8 funding for Oakbrooke Townhouses.

Knight further urged the council to adopt a resolution opposing any Section 8 funding for the townhouses.

"Further," Knight concluded, "that the city council show greater concern for the taxpaying homeowners in the subdivision adjacent to the Oakbrooke Townhouses."

Council later voted to rescind the approval of Section 8 it had given a week earlier.

Romulus asked to rate programs

County ponders cutback in service

Romulus Mayor James C. Stewart and Huron Township Supervisor John Puskar are two of the 44 mayors and township supervisors who John Barr, chairman of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners, has given the opportunity to rate several law enforcement programs threatened by the county's financial crisis.

Bar sent out a questionnaire asking the local leaders to rate each program in terms of its importance to public safety in their communities. He also asked how many times each program has assisted their local police.

The programs are the W.C. Organized Crime Task Force, the Prosecutor's Repeat Offenders Bureau and the following Sheriff's units: helicopter patrol, metropolitan narcotics squad, township patrols, community relations section and special services bureau.

Barr pointed out that the County Board of Auditors has recommended cutbacks in numerous county functions in order to solve a "dire" budget crisis by saving $17.3 million.

The Auditors recommended the dropping of programs which the county is not legally required to fund so that funding will be available for legally-mandated services. Most of the law enforcement programs facing curtailment were initiated in recent years with since-expired federal grants.

"We are making every effort to examine our services in human terms rather than simply on a financial basis," Barr said. "I am asking the people who literally live with these problems and live with our involvement in these services, what it will mean to them if these services are curtailed."

In other action, the County Commissioners:

—Decided to join Van Buren Township in suing three municipalities in Washtenaw County and two state agencies over the pollution of Belleville Lake. The board's action was based on a resolution sponsored by Commissioners Royce E. Smith of Belleville and Thomas Presnell of Westland.

—Approved operation for another year of the Detroit-Wayne County Criminal Justice System Coordinating Council, conduit for federal law enforcement assistance funds into Wayne County.

—Endorsed Board Chairman John Barr's resolution commending the national Full Employment Action Council and urging the President and Congress "to act immediately toward providing useful jobs at decent wages for all Americans willing and able to work."

—Voted to appeal a Circuit Court jury's award of $3,088,000 in damages arising from a lawsuit against Wayne County General Hospital. The board was advised that the jury's award was a "sympathy verdict" in the case of a young man who was severely affected by carbon monoxide poisoning in what was described as a suicide attempt.

—Endorsed House Bill 4006 which would require the state to provide the necessary funds whenever the state imposes additional costs on local governments.

—Adopted a Public Works Committee report which urges that bus service between suburbs and downtown Detroit be improved by the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority.

The Board of Commissioners scheduled its next meeting for Oct. 26 to formally receive the tentative county budget for next year.

Handicapped parking tabs available

State Rep. Edward E. Mahalak, (D) Romulus has announced that he has made available to veterans organizations, and others, application forms for handicapped parking stickers and license plates.

Public Act 19, which has taken effect, requires public establishments to make available reserved parking spaces for handicapped people.

Handicapped persons and those transporting the handicapped are required to have a special windshield sticker or license plate in order to utilize those reserved parking spaces.

Application for the sticker or license plate may be made through the Michigan Department of State.

Mahalak said that the veterans organizations would be able to assist the handicapped person fill out the application for applying for the stickers and license plates.

All handicapped persons and those who transport the handicapped are urged to make application for the stickers and license plates as soon as possible.

Teachers pact okayed

The Romulus School Board ratified the teacher's new three-year contract at its meeting Monday night, giving them a 12 percent increase through the length of the pact.

The vote was 6-1, with Jack Bath casting the only dissenting ballot.

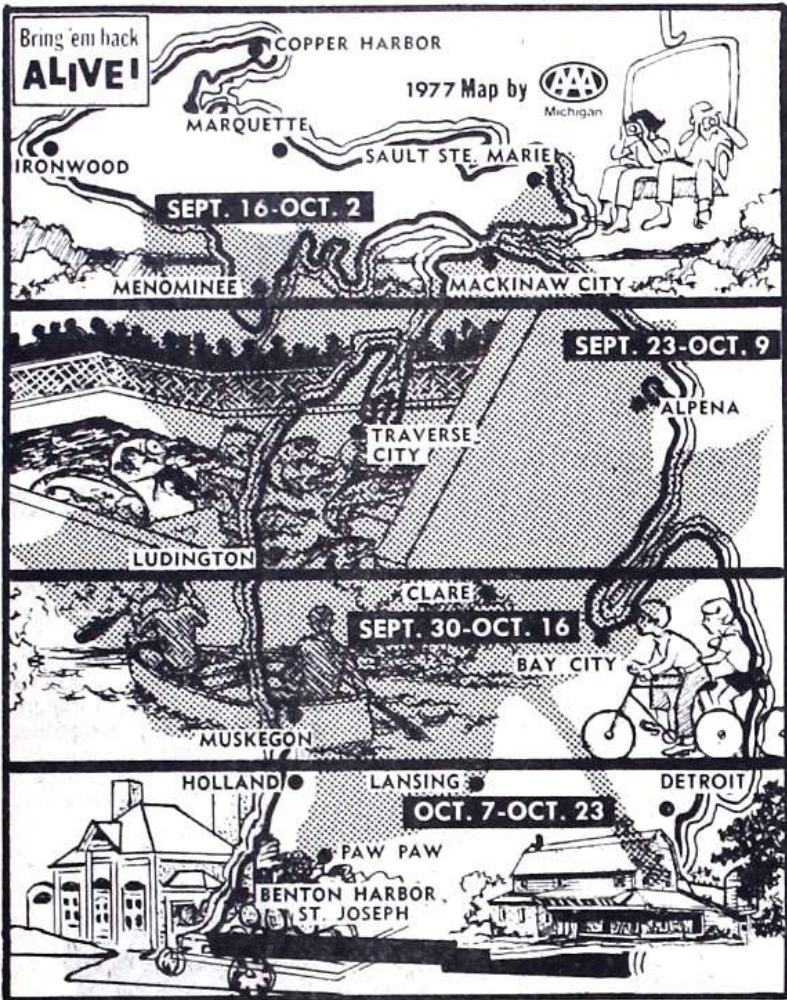

The Romulus Education Association (REA) contract calls for increases totaling three percent in 1976-77 (which hadn't been settled yet) and six percent for 1977-78.

In the third year of the pact, the teachers will receive a three percent salary increase, cost-of-living allowance, (COLA), (with a 4 percent bottom and 7 percent cap), a dental plan and $2,000 more in life insurance.

The REA had ratified the contract last week.

A school board meeting is planned for next Monday night at Supt. James Garfield is expected to give a budget report that will detail what programs will be possible if the millage passes.

Michigan's Fall Color Guide

Fall is one of the most beautiful seasons in which to enjoy a canoe trip along the Huron River in southeastern Michigan.

One of the most popular routes begins on the river southwest of Pontiac, through Milford, Kent Lake in Kensington Metropark, the Hamburg area and then to Hudson Mills and Delhi metroparks northwest of Ann Arbor.

A canoe rental service is available at the Delhi Metropark on weekends only in the fall. Two trips are available—Hudson Mills to Delhi for a $10.50 fee and Dexter Metropark to Delhi for a $6.50 fee, plus deposit charge.

Details on the rentals can be obtained by calling Skip's Canoe Rental Service at 769-8686 or Hudson Mills Metropark at 426-8211 (Dexter).

There are several Huron-Clinton metropark overnight campsites available by advance permit—$1 per canoe up to a maximum of $5 canoes. Permits are available by contacting the park offices at Kensington Metropark (685-1561), Hudson Mills Metropark (426-8211) or Lower Huron Metropark (697-9181).

Sideband channel talking is now a serious problem

By JANICE PLESIEWICZ
Nightbird KNN 5032

Lately, there seems to be numerous complaints from sidebanders over the problem of AM conversations taking place on sideband channels. Before we go any further let me clarify one thing, as far as the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) is concerned, there are no legal sideband channels. As with the truckers and their Channel 19 it is a gentlemen's agreement to designate certain channels for sideband only.

The most common sideband channels are 15 through 18 although with the new frequencies that have been added it is commonplace to find sideband activity from .365 (Channel 36) to .405 (Channel 40). Since there has not been any legal movement to assign certain frequencies to sideband it has left things on a sort of touch-and-go basis.

Probably, one of the biggest headaches to sidebanders is the lack of information obtained by the AM users of CB radio about the sideband channels. Relatively few new CBers know anything at all about sideband when they first start out. I know I made the mistake of breaking on Channel 16 when I was just beginning as a CBER. I interfered with a sideband conversation, but luckily the gentleman was courteous enough to explain what I had done wrong and didn't jump down my throat about it. This is one of the problems I have heard myself on sideband. The worst thing a sidebander can do is start yelling and calling names at an AMer who interferes in a conversation. All that kind of action can do is aggravate the situation more.

What really gripes the sidebanders is the AMers who know that they aren't supposed to use sideband channels and go ahead and do it deliberately. It's very annoying to talk sideband and hear, how about ya', Old Yeller, do you copy the Brave Bull? That kind of talk on sideband is not used and, if anyone does it just to be funny, believe me it's not and that person is not too together.

Sideband is not as crowded as AM, therefore, making some CBers think that because the channel is quiet for a few minutes they have the right to go ahead and use the channel. That's completely wrong and since there is that certain amount of quietness why don't we try to leave it there?

Sidebanders don't despair. Why not try having some of your sideband clubs get together with some of the AM clubs and try working this thing out together. Available to you free of cost from the SSB NETWORK are some mini posters suitable for hanging on bulletin boards or anywhere else you might find convenient. These posters let AM users know which channels are used in your area by sideband (you fill in your frequencies on each poster). If you would like some of these posters send a large, self-addressed, stamped (with at least 24 cents postage) to: SSB NETWORK, P.O. Box 381, Smithtown, N.Y. 11787.

If you want to do something about AMers on your frequencies, here's your chance.

Bloodmobile in city at BHS on Oct. 24

The Red Cross bloodmobile will be at two locations in Western Wayne County this month.

Blood contributions will be collected from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Sunday at St. John's Episcopal Church, 555 S. Wayne Road at Bayview in Westland and from 2 to 8 p.m. Oct. 24 at Belleville High School, 501 W. Columbia St., Belleville.

Appointments for the former blood drive can be made by calling 721-5023. The Belleville blood drive appointment phone number is 697-9133.

Red Cross relies exclusively on volunteer blood donations to meet the needs of patients in more than 85 hospitals in the 5-county area. That means that nearly 1,000 units of blood must be collected each day.

Because the life span of whole blood is 21 days, this supply must be replenished continually.

Red Cross urges volunteer blood donors to support this program by donating this month at the convenient Dearborn Donor Center, Village Plaza, 23400 Michigan Avenue, Dearborn, 274-5450. Blood donations are accepted Monday, Tuesday, Friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.; Wednesday, Thursday, from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m.; and Saturday, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m.

An idea whose time has gone.

That old adage might have made sense fifty years ago, but times have changed. A lot.

Think what it would be like to buy a house without a mortgage loan. A car without an auto loan. Picture yourself at some far away vacation spot without one single charge card. Or, for that matter, on a shopping trip around town. It's pretty hard to do.

Simpler is better.

Stop in at your nearest NBD office and we'll show you how credit can make your daily life a lot simpler.

We'll tell you about NBD's "social security cards," Master Charge and VISA. They're the two most widely accepted travel and entertainment cards in the world. And they may be the only charge cards you'll ever need.

You'll learn about Checkmate and Instaline, simple interest loans you can actually approve yourself.

NBD Checkmate is a line of credit that lets you write checks for more than your checking balance. So when a sale comes along you'll never have to be caught short.

Once you have Instaline, you can write yourself a loan. Just fill in the amount on your Instaline request form, hand it to any National Bank of Detroit teller and you've got the money you need. Instantly.

As we said, both are simple interest loans, so you can reduce interest charges by paying ahead of schedule. Or, take advantage of minimum monthly payments.

Give yourself credit.

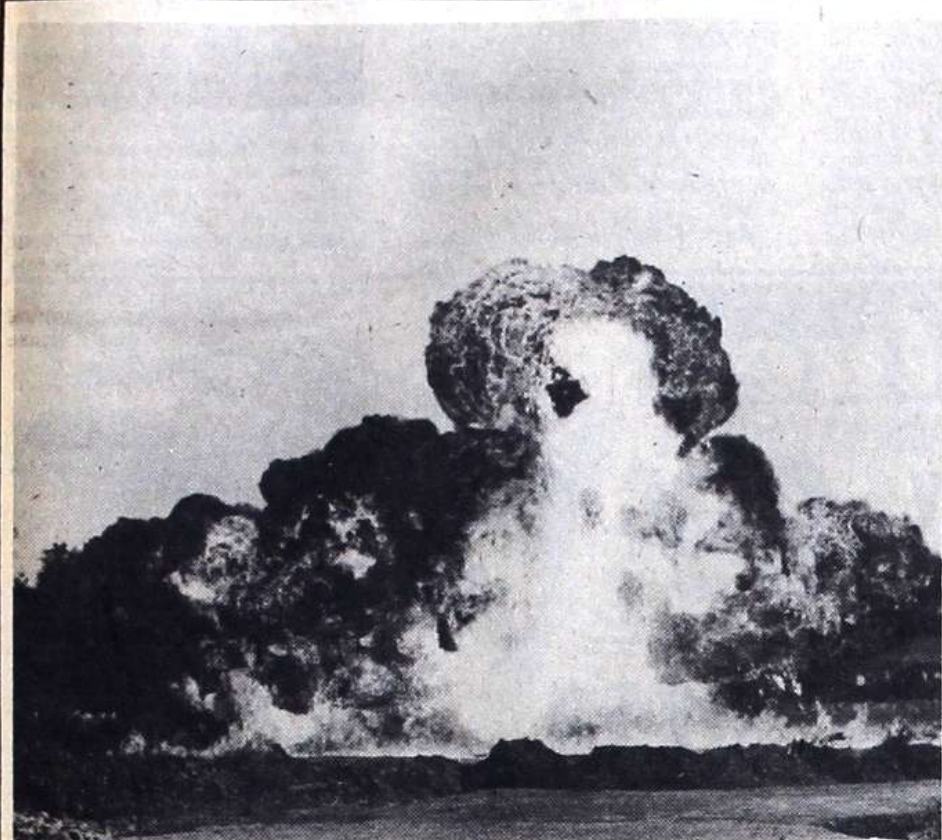

At NBD we know what credit can do for you. We know it can help you get more enjoyment from today. And help you prepare for a more secure tomorrow.

That's more than making banking better for you, that's making living better for you. An idea whose time has come.

Demo a hit with police

Explosive display instructs police

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

A sand and gravel quarry in Romulus was the site of an explosives demonstration recently by U.S. Treasury agents of the Bureau of Alcohol, tobacco and firearms (ATF).

Police officials from Romulus, Van Buren Township and 13 other Wayne County law enforcement agencies attended the explosives and bomb demonstration that was part of a three-day program.

More than 40 officers took part in learning how to conduct a search after an explosion, what to look for and how to collect physical evidence.

Donald Zimmerman, a special agent with ATF, was in charge of the demonstration and was aided by Range Officer George Stoll, coordinator of the school.

"This is an outdoor exercise to let police officers see first-hand what they have been taught about in class," said Zimmerman, who was recently transferred to Michigan after a five-year stint in charge of the Intelligence branch in Wash. D.C.

"We teach them how to collect evidence at the scene of a bombing or other explosion and what to look for."

Zimmerman pointed out that many things can detect what ingredients were used in the explosive device, including the color of smoke, odor, actual destruction caused at the site, and the sound of the detonation.

"Although the criminal use of explosives is not up much over last year, it has increased substantially over the past several years," Zimmerman said.

In addition, he said three billion pounds of explosive materials are used legally each year.

And new strides are fast being taken to help identify all explosives manufactured in this country, he said. There are 10 major manufacturers of explosives in the country and they are starting to use an ingredient that will enable officers to trace what and where the explosive was made.

Called taggants, the material is plastic-coated melnac material which shatters into tiny crushed particles. By examining the color combination, agents can trace where the explosive was manufactured, the kind it is and also on which work shift it was made.

The explosives demonstration was covered by the news media, including two television stations.

Stoll and his assistants first set off eight sticks of dynamite (about 5 lbs.) to show the assembled group of some 80 people what it looked and sounded like.

Next to be displayed was a blasting cap about one-third of the size of a ball-point pen.

It emphasized that even though the blasting cap is very small, it can be very dangerous and nothing to fool with.

Then Stoll demonstrated some explosions with common, everyday materials easy to acquire. He set off a mixture of potassium chlorate and sugar, which sent a shower of white flame into the air.

Then he poured some brake fluid into a container of chlorine and fire burst forth. Another simple mixture of sodium peroxide and sugar caused an explosion.

With TV cameras grinding away, Stoll and his men set off explosions under three older model cars and also detonated a 20-gallon barrel of gasoline.

Six sticks of dynamite were placed under the front seat of a big old Lincoln and it blew the car to smithereens. Then five pounds of fuel oil, mixed with ammonium nitrate (called "Ampho") exploded under a Mercury and flipped it completely over in the process of destroying it.

The hood of the Lincoln flew high into the air and landed some 100 feet away. "How far the debris flew from the explosion helps determine what type of explosive was used," Zimmerman said.

Zimmerman, who was stationed in New York for 12 years prior to going to Wash. D.C., still carries his eastern accent.

Area air freight to greatly expand

A new terminal in Romulus to service an air freight parts distribution program is part of a $4.5 million expansion of Blue Arrow-Douglas Inc., the common carrier truck line subsidiary of Kysor Industrial Corp.

The expansion includes the construction of a new terminal just off Wick Road near Detroit Metropolitan Airport and the purchase of an existing facility in Chicago.

In Romulus, the new terminal adjacent to the airport will be situated on five acres and initially provide for a 28-door cross-dock operation with future expansion capability to 60 doors. This facility will primarily service an air freight parts distribution program.

At Chicago, extensive remodeling of the new-acquired facility began Sept. 1. Occupancy of the new terminal located in southwestern Chicago, near Stevenson Expressway, is planned for mid-December of this year.

The terminal, situated on 13 acres, will provide a 120-door cross-dock operation with an adjacent 24,000-square foot garage as compared to the existing 66-door facility on five acres with a 14,000-square foot garage.

Equipment expenditures for Blue Arrow involve the purchase of 27 heavy duty diesel road tractors with the latest energy-saving devices, 21 mid-range diesels for city operation and 50 new 45-foot trailers.

Delivery of the new equipment was completed last month.

"These expenditures represent the largest annual investment Blue Arrow has ever made," said Lee R. Duntz, president of the Grand Rapids-based company. "It represents our confidence in the future of the economy of Romulus, Chicago and other markets we serve. We have experienced excellent growth the last two years, with 1976 business up 38 percent over 1975 and in 1977 we are experiencing a 28 percent growth."

"These new facilities and equipment will enable us to continue to meet the growing needs of our customers and provide the base for future expansion," Duntz added.

K.W. Burch, Detroit terminal manager, told The Romulus Roman he was very happy that his company was expanding into Romulus.

"We presently are located on Trolley Industrial Drive in Detroit and are looking forward to the greatly expanded facility we're planning to build near Metropolitan Airport in Romulus," he said.

18,000 to participate

Jaycee format during October hits alcoholism

October has been proclaimed as "Substance Abuse Alcoholism Awareness Month" by the Michigan Jaycees and the Michigan Jaycee Auxiliary.

More than 350 Jaycee chapters and more than 200 auxiliary chapters, representing some 18,000 young leaders in the state, will help to "make our communities more aware of the illness of alcoholism as well as where to go for treatment and information."

The announcement was made jointly by Mike Robinson, president of the Jaycee State organization, and Sue Pogarch, president of the state Jaycee auxiliary.

Just recently, Lt. Gov. James Damman commended both groups for active promotion of their alcohol awareness program entitled, "Operation Threshold."

Damman, in his letter to leaders of the month-long campaign, Wayne and Sue Templeton, of Livonia, said: "I would encourage each of the Jaycee chapters throughout Michigan to plan active participation in this project."

The lieutenant governor currently is serving as chairperson of the State Substance Abuse Prevention Committee.

Mrs. Templeton explained, "If you saw someone close to you in great emotional distress, I'm sure you would want to help them out."

Her husband commented, "We are taking the leadership found in local Jaycee chapters and working with the Governor and the Office of Substance Abuse Services to put on an awareness campaign during October."

Recently tabulated statistics reveal that about 10 million alcoholics exist in the nation today, which means that about four other persons are closely affected. With proper motivation, that means about 40 million people who are available to help them get treatment.

With some 100 million persons in the country using alcohol today, the problem of alcoholism is a serious one, according to authorities. If not treated early, they warn, alcoholics can end up with permanent mental and physical damage and/or early death.

Other statistics disclose: Most problem drinkers and alcoholics are employed or employable; at least 36 million Americans are harmed by the untreated alcoholic's irresponsible behavior; about 80 percent of alcoholics are men, the rest women; one third of all suicides are alcohol related (about 12,000 annually); more than two and a half million arrests are made each year for misuse of alcohol; 50 percent of highway deaths are directly related to drinking alcohol; misuse of alcohol costs the nation about 25 billion dollars yearly; about 23 percent (1974) of all students exhibit potential problem-drinking signs.

The Templetons said, "Support the alcoholic - he is sick. He needs warm, human concern."

"Above all," they caution, "to do nothing is the worst choice one can make because untreated alcoholism will almost certainly lead to death."

In brief

Candidates reply on police force

In last week's Romulus Roman, the following question was asked of the 14 candidates running for city council and two running for mayor of Romulus in the Nov. 8 general election.

This week's question asks: How do you feel about Romulus having its own police force? Would you support the type of movement that took place in Canton Township where voters approved a police millage for that purpose?

Three candidates responded; here are their answers:

Bill Oakley (mayor):

"I believe we already have a Romulus Police force - four professionally-trained Wayne County Sheriff units 24 hours a day, everyday.

"Administrative direction from the mayor can provide even better service and help citizens relate to the police officers they pay to protect them.

"I feel we should pay for police protection from general budget. However, if citizens want a special millage election, we should give them that opportunity."

Jerry Canejo (Council):

"If we are going to make Romulus a city of which we can all be proud, we must begin to think of forming our own police force." I would support a movement to place the issue on the ballot for the voters to decide."

Brooker Edwards (Council):

"I don't think we can better the services provided by the Wayne County Sheriffs Department for the price we are now paying. During my tenure on the Police, Fire and Safety Commission, a study revealed the start-up costs for a city force was in excess of $6 million. That is too great a burden for Romulus taxpayers to endure and I would not support such a special millage at this time."

All candidates for mayor and council are requested to answer each week's question in writing no later than 5 p.m. on the Friday following publication. Their answers should be limited to 50 words and will be printed in the following issue.

This week's question asks: What would you do, if elected, to rid the city of the "Cuckoo's Nest" label attached to it by the news media?

Parents happy after talk with ed leaders

Seven people from Romulus, including School Supt. James Garfield and School Board President Gerald Budd, were very pleased with the results of their six-hour meeting with state educators in Lansing last Thursday.

The group was brought together by Mrs. Sandra Langley, a concerned parent of the district, whose letter-writing brought about the learning session.

Meeting with the Romulus contingent were Dr. Phillip J. O'Leary, acting director of education management; Lloyd Van Raalte, director of transportation; and two of their aides.

"They were just fantastic," exclaimed Mrs. Langley in describing the state educators' willingness to listen to their problems.

"They listened to 110 questions we asked, and they kept going over the information until we got it straight. It was a very tiring, but rewarding trip," she said.

Accompanying Mrs. Langley, Garfield and Budd were Kristi Stephens, senior class valedictorian, with a 4.0 grade average; Kenneth Berlino, Evelyn Hopewell and Barbara Schuster.

The 110 questions were grouped into five categories: State School Financing; Transportation; Local Board, and What If?

During the long day, Van Raalte had lunch with the group and continued to answer questions from the visitors.

After the group arrived home, each person had definite impressions from the trip to Lansing.

"The State Dept. of Education doesn't have the power everyone thinks it has," said Mrs. Schuster. Her group learned that the state Dept. of Education only carries out what the State Legislature passes into law.

Mrs. Langley reported that the State Dept. of Education oversees general supervision of education in Michigan as defined by law.

Wayne County General gets top rating

Wayne County General Hospital has been given the highest grade a medical complex can acquire — accreditation for two years, given by a panel that evaluates the quality of hospitals nationally.

The action by the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals (JCAH) was announced at a meeting of the County Board of Institutions, governing board of the county hospital.

The accreditation is the result of an on-site survey, conducted earlier this year, by an inspection team from the Chicago-based JCAH.

"Through the award of accreditation, the Joint Commission commends your efforts toward providing patient care of quality," said Dr. A. Walter Hoover, JCAH accreditation director.

County Commissioner Samuel T. Turner (D-Detroit), chairman of the hospital governing board, said the accreditation "bears witness to our continuing commitment to providing the very best in hospital care for the people of Wayne County."

Turner said the County Board of Commissioners has appropriated funds for "significant improvements in staffing levels and facilities upgrading over the last few years."

He added: "The high marks given the hospital in the JCAH survey would have been impossible without outstanding dedication to the highest quality of hospital care on the part of the Wayne County General staff and its executive director, Symuel H. Smith."

Wayne County General Hospital is one of some 4,800 out of 7,150 general hospitals in the United States that have been accredited by the JCAH.

The Joint Commission is sponsored by the American College of Surgeons, the American College of Physicians, the American Hospital Association, and the American Medical Association.

SEMTA studies more buses for suburbs

Wayne County commissioners held a public meeting Sept. 27 to discuss the need for increased bus service between downtown Detroit and several outcounty communities particularly during the early morning and evening rush hours on workdays.

The meeting was conducted by the Board of Commissioners' Public Works Committee.

Several county commissioners have indicated their "unhappiness", with the proposed 1979 Annual Public Transportation Plan, drafted by the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (SEMTA). SEMTA has asked the Board of Commissioners and several other government agencies for comments on the proposed plan. It then will be submitted to the Southeastern Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) for review and to the state for final approval.

Royce E. Smith, county commissioner from Belleville, already has criticized the $91 million plan because "no expansion of bus service was provided for southwestern Wayne County, although area residents had complained about inadequate service."

Smith said he would ask SEMTA officials to "readjust the plan and improve service between downtown and the cities of Romulus and Belleville and Van Buren and Sumpter Townships so that commuters can get to work and shopping areas."

Ask more buses for western suburbs

Western Wayne County Commissioners are appealing for expanded bus service into their communities. In a meeting with Harry L. Rogers, manager of the Program Management Office for The Southeastern Michigan

Senior housing improves

By MAUREEN BEATTY

Because of an article that appeared in my column about senior citizen high rises, written by Anonymous, I was invited to an open house on Sept. 30 at the Garden City Tower.

Susan Goldman, secretary to Robert Cobb of the Wingate Management Corp., wanted me to see what type of building can be erected for senior citizens. I'm glad she did. It changed my opinion of senior citizen housing.

The last senior citizen high rise I visited left me with a feeling of depression. The apartments were tiny and non-descript. The small lobby consisted of a few folding chairs and a magazine rack, and the narrow hallways, constructed of grey cinder block, gave the impression that the sun no longer shined upon the earth.

North Cranbrook Associates, the builders, and Wingate Management

Corp. have made apartment living desirable at the Garden City Tower. The main lobby of the building is spacious and colorful, with wallpaper of large green leaves on a white background, green carpeting, and comfortable, bright yellow furniture. Each floor, also decorated in patterned wallpaper, has a large foyer at the entrance to the elevators. The wide halls, fully equipped with handrails, are done in matching paper, and the apartments are roomy and attractive to the eye. The building, with its TV security intercom system and elevators, equipped with handrails and numbers in braille, obviously was erected with the needs of senior citizens in mind.

I'm sure I missed many of the buildings other desirable features on my brief tour. Anyone interested in senior citizen housing can call Bobbie Checkosky, the building manager, or visit the building in person. It may change your mind, as it did mine, about apartment dwelling.

The open house was attended by approximately 300 guests and residents. A well equipped bar was set up for drinks, and a buffet was served, including such favorite dishes as chicken, kielbasa, stuffed cabbage, diced potatoes, sliced fresh vegetables and sliced fresh melons. I have only one word to describe the dinner, catered by Leright's Coffee Shop in Westland. delicious. Seated at the table with me were Ethel LaMar and Teresa Hay of Romulus, and Maryette Baird of Belleville.

How not to stay slim — that same afternoon I attended a pot luck dinner at J Building for Eva Harrison of Romulus. Eva, a coordinator for the Wayne County Office on Aging, retired on Sept. 30. The pot luck, consisting of spaghetti, salads, breads and desserts, was attended by 20 co-workers who will greatly miss her.

What's for lunch?

An editorial opinion

National Press Week honors our 'Free Press'

Since the establishment by James Franklin, brother of Benjamin, of the New England Courant in 1721, the press in this country has successfully resisted all efforts by government to restrict or license their right to gather and disseminate the news. But this fight has been neither without cost nor hardship.

We feel it is appropriate that during National Newspapers week, citizens of the community be reminded once again of the price that was extracted from countless men for their dedication to the principle of a free press.

James Franklin, founder of the first truly 'free press', dared to challenge the government's regulations requiring licensing and the bowing to officials pressures of publishing by 'authority'.

Franklin, in 1722 refused to halt his outspoken attacks on the government. Following his criticism of the authorities for their ineffective defense of Boston waters from pirates, he was hauled into court and eventually jailed for contempt.

Once free, Franklin again took up his attack on the authorities but within a year, was again tried before a General Court and barred for life from ever again printing or publishing the New England Courant.

Franklin had paid the price for establishing in America, the principle of publishing without authority.

The next serious threat to the free and unrestricted publishing of newspapers occurred in 1798, with passage of the Alien and Sedition Act.

One provision of the new law declared that any person writing, publishing or uttering any false, scandalous or malicious statements against the government could be punished by imprisonment. For the next two years, more than 19 indictments were handed down under the provisions of the Sedition Act.

Those editors who had dared to resist the silencing of the news had paid the price for their defense of a free press. Many of them were ruined for life, both physically and mentally, as the result of their actions.

Today, it is unlikely that the average reader of a newspaper is fully aware of the implications of a free press. Relaxing comfortably, while reading accounts of the actions of their elected officials, or, discovering through a feature story the contribution of one of their neighbors, may not appear to represent the high level of achievement that it does. But it is indeed a level of achievement that millions throughout the world would fight to gain.

It is of course difficult to speculate about how our country might have developed without freedom of the press, but you can be assured that a democratic society could not have long survived without the probing eye of 'a free press.'

Experience has shown that time after time, the party in power will inevitably abuse that power in the interests of expediency.

Without a free press, unrestrained by government, and supported by the people, this great system that we must all concede is the best yet that man has been able to conceive, would have most certainly perished from the face of the earth.

The week of Oct. 9 through 15 has been designated National Newspaper Week. We feel it would be fitting for you to once again take stock of what this great country has provided you with.

This country would not exist as we know it without 'A Free Press'.

'In Romulus, that's out of the question'

By DENNIS FASSETT
Managing Editor

When is it better to curse the darkness than to light one candle? Some say anytime you are in Romulus. We say baloney! But maybe we are wrong. What Do You Think?

Several weeks ago, one of my staff writers received a call from a candidate for elective office. That caller, a veteran of many political races, expressed his concern over the possibility that 'dirty tricks' might find their way into this year's campaigns, and suggested that maybe he had an idea that could help to eliminate at least some of them.

"If your paper would agree to accept the campaign literature being circulated by all of the candidates in this election, possibly we could avoid some of the questionable materials that have been circulated in the past," he said.

"Quite frankly," he continued, "if those candidates, who might be tempted to engage in 'dirty tricks,' thought for one moment that a newspaper with a reputation for fair play, such as yours, would be cataloging campaign literature, there is no doubt they would think twice before getting involved in such practices."

A few hours later the writer came into my office and presented that same suggestion to me.

"Why you know that we can't get involved in something like that," I said. "It would be asking for trouble, especially in Romulus where political campaigns use just about anything and anyone for the target of their make-believe charges. Why I can see it now, we would be charged with trying to control the campaign for our own devious purposes. The publisher would certainly be called witless, stupid and ignorant, and dedicated to communist principles and I would probably be referred to as a dim-witted editor with clowns for reporters. No, it is out of the question," I said.

"But you don't understand," my writer said. "This newspaper has gone out of its way to prove to the citizens of the community that we really do care. We have sponsored Meet the Candidates Nights, Coffee Clatches, CPR classes and CB Jamborees. We have taken a stand on all of the important issues, regardless of what it might cost us, it is our responsibility to the citizens of the community, you just can't turn your back."

"You just don't know what you're asking," I said. "I'm older and wiser than you. Let me tell you, we would be leaving ourselves wide open to criticism. Suppose now, just suppose for one moment, that the publisher were to be called a naive autocratic journalist who was not dedicated to democratic principles. What would we do then?"

"I'm sorry boss," my writer said. "You're wrong on this one. We've made a commitment to the community. After all our efforts to demonstrate to the people that we really are dedicated to helping find solutions to community problems, if we don't do what we can to help them see that this election is free of 'dirty tricks,' we might as well 'hang 'em up.'"

"Okay," I said, "but if this deal backfires on us, it will prove to you once-and-for-all that some political candidates think they are more important than the whole community."

"You won't be sorry boss," the young broadly-smiling writer said. "I assure you that every decent candidate running for office in this community will thank this newspaper for caring enough to get involved."

I turned and watched as my young and politically naive reporter bounced out of my office.

What could I say. If you are to open yourself to criticism, it is far better to be accused of being too involved as opposed to not being involved enough.

Reflections

Did I say it was easy?

By JOYCE HAGELTHORN

I have a friend who has to give up smoking. She has to give it up because the doctor told her she did, and when he gave her the alternative she got hysterical.

"I can't quit," she huffed and puffed while we were sitting around in a dense cloud of smoke talking about it.

"Of course you can," I laughed. "anyone can quit smoking if he makes up his mind. It's all rather easy. I quit, so I know what I'm talking about."

"How can you say it's easy?" she asked, breaking open a new package. "What do you do with your hands?"

"I can't stand chewed up fingernails," she said. "Especially when you get to liking the taste of fingernails."

"I can't stand chewed up fingernails," she said blowing a cloud of smoke through her ears.

"It's easy. Just put some steel in your backbone and rely on your willpower," and I patted her on the shoulder and went home.

"I told Nan how to quit smoking today," I told my love. "I told her all it takes is willpower..."

"I suppose you told her it was easy," he said.

"How did you know?" I asked.

"All converts say how easy it is, but did you tell her about the time you got hung up under the bed when you thought a cigarette might be under there? Did you tell her how cozy it was with the dust bunnies for the eight hours before the kids came home from school?"

"No," I whispered.

"Did you tell her about the time you almost got sued when you ran out of the house and knocked over that fourteen year old and swiped his cigarette?"

"I didn't knock him over! I just put out my foot and he tripped. And I grabbed his lighted cigarette so he wouldn't get burned when he fell."

"Yeah, I know," my love answered. "But how about the time you got caught emptying all the sand in the cigarette stands at Sears?"

"Maybe I'd better call her and tell her it isn't so easy after all," I whispered.

So I called my friend and I said, "Listen Nan, quitting smoking isn't as easy I said."

"You're telling me," she shouted. "But listen, you could have told me there's danger in it, too."

"What do you mean danger?" I asked.

"I'm out on bail," she wailed.

"Out on bail? I shouted.

"Yes, I got arrested for assault and battery when I hit the milkman over the head with a milk bottle and swiped his cigarettes. Joe bailed me out."

"Oh dear," I whispered. "Oh dear. How much did it cost?"

"Two cartons of cigarettes. The judge is trying to quit, too," she answered.

Health Beat

Hospital 'boobs' only in the 'tubes'

By RUSS TUTTLE
Director, Community Relations
Peoples Community Hospital Authority

We left our fictional TV patient last week in the operating room where a team of specialists was busy doing a difficult surgical procedure.

But what's going on in the other sections of the TV hospital?

Well, and this is one segment, which for obvious reasons always captures my attention, the PR lady is scurrying about the halls solving the myriad of problems which seem to beset this super hospital.

I said PR lady, and that's what they always are: tall, slim, very attractive with an affectation for pushing their eyeglasses over their foreheads into their immaculate coiffures. Perhaps it really doesn't matter if they can read or not, because you never see these PR types sitting at a typewriter grinding out copy, or preparing a patient brochure, or taping a radio show. Oh no. They are always blundering into a patient room interrupting a tender moment between a patient and whomever. Or they are seen rushing into the medical staff lounge to corner a tired doctor and punish his ears with some unrelated drivel which could more appropriately be handled at another time.

And there is something else about TV hospital PR ladies which is disturbing. They all have the most annoying habit of addressing everyone, from the Chief of Staff to anyone else within earshot, by their first names. Evidently, employees in TV hospitals have never been taught any of the courtesies expected of civilized professionals in a hospital setting.

Now we come to the hospital administrator as seen through the eyes of the TV script writers.

The administrator is always a man - something which perhaps does a disservice to the many fine women who function as hospital administrators in this Country.

And you always see him dashing up and down the halls: suit jacket off, sleeves rolled up, necktie loosened, and in one hand (generally the left hand) he will be carrying a sheaf of papers. He is constantly raising his voice to whomever gets in his way, and in general makes a complete ass of himself as he roars through the hospital creating more problems than he ever solves.

Sorry, folks, but thankfully, it just doesn't work that way. I've spent five years in the health care industry, and have been in many, many hospitals in addition to the five PCHA facilities; and I might add, I've been in administrators' offices during times of some stress, and I've yet to see an administrator react as the TV 'drama' writers would have you believe is the norm.

What TV, unfortunately, fails to show is the simple fact that it takes a large group of highly skilled and specially trained people to make a hospital operate effectively.

Doctors and nurses are the most visible of our many employees, and thus gain the lion's share of air time. There can be no reasonable question about the vital services provided by the MD's, DO's, and RN's. But let's look at some of the support personnel who also provide vital services and usually are ignored in the TV epics.

Here's an interesting for instance. Have you ever wondered why it is that the parking lot and sidewalks at Annapolis Hospital are always cleared of snow and ice by the time you arrive on a cold winter morning to be admitted or to visit a patient? Let me tell you how that happens. We have a group of men assigned to outdoor maintenance, and during the winter months, these hardy and dedicated souls are always prepared to hear their telephones ring at 3:00 or 4:00 a.m.

They respond to these calls and spend the next few hours making the area habitable while the rest of the world smiles sweetly in dreamland.

And think about something as mundane as laundry. Each day the beds must be changed, OR gowns washed and sterilized, towels and washclothes cleaned and packed, and so it goes. The PCHA laundry is a large structure located on the South edge of the Annapolis Hospital campus. If you enter this building on one of Michigan's sweltering summer days, you'll really find out what heat is! The tasks performed in the laundry, although perhaps not as glamorous or exciting as open-heart surgery, are vitally important to the operation of all five PCHA hospitals.

But shucks, TV dramas never take the viewer into a modern, sophisticated laundry. Oh well, Maidson Avenue, you're missing a good bet!

Then, another group of hard-working, but alas unrecognized workers are found in the Housekeeping Department.

We are going to tell you something about housekeeping in the modern hospital in next week column.

Open meetings are essential to an open society

An unbridled horse is apt to run away out of control.

A bridled horse, with too loose of a rein, is apt to act more frisky than one kept under tight hold, and on occasion, may also run away out of control.

Much the same story is being enacted in Washington D.C., where a Common Cause study shows that 47 federal agencies are not being kept under tight rein and are not complying with provisions of the new Sunshine Act which forbids closed meetings except under specified exemptions.

After its enactment Sept. 13, 1976, Common Cause conducted a study of 591 meetings held during the first quarterly period the Sunshine Act went into effect — March 12, 1977 to June 12, 1977. Its findings prompted the group's president, David Cohen, to call its implications "plainly disturbing."

Only 37 percent, a little more than a third, of the sessions were entirely open to the public, the study found, while 24 percent were partially closed, and 39 percent were entirely closed.

Cohen commented, "Despite enactment of the Sunshine Law mandating openness in executive branch agencies, despite President Carter's call for a new era of executive branch openness, the prevailing pattern is secrecy as usual — decisions made behind closed doors."

He pointed to two main offenders, the Federal Reserve Board and the Interstate Commerce Commission, asserting the former had completely closed 30 of its 37 meetings to the public. On one occasion, he said, the meeting was closed to consider such items as furniture design and the board's building renovation.

A meeting of the Interstate Commerce Commission, held June 28, 1977, after the study's cutoff point of June 12, was not included in the data, but disclosed an alarming fact. The meeting was closed to the public while its members studied tariff rates on the transportation of oil in the Alaskan pipeline.

Included in the list of recommendations to the President and Congress is one to determine whether exemptions in the act are being properly used.

The 10 exemptions contained in the Sunshine Act pertain to meetings on: National defense classification, internal personnel rules, statute exemptions, trade secrets, criminal accusation, personal privacy, law enforcement, regulation of financial institutions, premature disclosure, and civil action or formal agency adjudication.

Cited in the Common Cause study was the very high percentage of agency meetings declared closed because of the exemption pertaining to regulation of financial institutions, Cohen said. Of the 39 percent or 232 meetings out of the total 591 studied, 38 percent were closed to the public for that specific exemption.

We agree wholeheartedly with Mr. Cohen that federal agencies, a majority of whose members are appointed by the President with Senate confirmation, should comply with provisions of the new Sunshine Act.

In like manner, we believe all governmental units covered under Michigan's own Sunshine Act, which was passed shortly after its Federal counterpart, should adhere strictly to its provisions.

The state Sunshine Act pertains to meetings of such groups as school boards, township boards, city councils, boards of appeal, planning commissions, etc.

While we agree that federal agencies in our nation's capital should set a sterling example for smaller state and local governmental units in compliance with such open meeting acts, that does not mean that a local or state agency should try to defy the act solely because "big brother" in Washington is getting away with non-compliance.

As in the cited analogy at the beginning of this editorial, those responsible should keep a tight rein on agencies, not only at the federal level, but at the local and state as well, to ensure adherence to these much-needed Sunshine acts.

As strong believers in the philosophy, that we at Associated Newspapers are watchdogs of the communities we serve, we will do all in our power to see that Sunshine laws are enforced and will also work to see that its violators are reported and prosecuted.

From the State House

Property Tax, and how it affects you

By THOMAS H. BROWN
State Representative
37th District

board, further protest to the State Tax Tribunal is also available.

At first glance, the property tax system may appear to be a complex and confusing area of the law. Yet, taking a few minutes to understand some of the concepts that are basic to that system will not only promote an understanding of how the system works, but will put property taxpayers in a better position to make sure that the system works properly.

THE BASIC SYSTEM

The property tax system is based on the idea that local services should be paid for by those persons who receive the benefits from those services. The relative portion of the cost of those services that each person is required to pay is determined by the value of the property that person owns within an area to be served, relative to the total value of all the property within that area.

The property tax bill itself is determined by two variables — the tax rate and the assessment placed on the property.

1. Tax Rate

Property taxes are expressed in terms of "mills". A mill is equal to 1-1,000th of a dollar, or perhaps more easily expressed as $1.00 per $1,000 of assessed value.

The tax rate, or millage, in any local taxing jurisdiction is a locally controlled rate. It is determined by the types and level of services that the voters in a given area demand and are willing to pay for.

The local millage will cover the cost of providing general programs to the community, including police and fire protection. The school millage will provide a portion of the cost of funding the local school district's educational program. The county millage will pay for the services rendered to all county residents, and special millages may be included in a person's property tax bill to cover the cost of specific programs such as street paving or drains. Taken together, these local millage rates will determine the total tax rate on a piece of property.

The amount of property taxes needed to support these various programs is determined by the annual budget needs of the townships, cities, counties, schools, community colleges and other local units having the authority to impose a tax against the affected property. Citizens who are concerned about the size of these budgets, and the rate of property taxation necessary to support them, should attend the public budget hearings held by these local units of government in order to determine personally if the taxes are justified by the services provided. Concerned citizens should raise questions and voice their opinions at these hearings. They should also communicate their concerns to their neighbors and local public officials. And they should vote their conscience in all millage elections. Lack of interest and concern on the part of the taxpayers could mean increasing property taxes with little accountability for the return.

2. The Assessment

The other variable that will affect the determination of a person's property tax bill is the assessment that is placed on that person's property.

The local assessor has the primary responsibility for establishing the assessment on all property located within a local unit of government. However, in order to comply with the requirement for uniformity of assessments statewide, an equalized value may be placed on property that differs from the value established by the assessor. Equalization is a two-step process designed to insure statewide uniformity of assessments. It takes place at both the county and state level.

The process of equalization exists because local units of government do not exist in a vacuum. If they did, each could assess the property within its jurisdiction solely for its own purposes and there would be no need for this process. But local units collect taxes levied against their assessed valuations for other purposes, such as funding school districts and county governments whose boundaries extend across more than one local assessing unit. Consequently, it is critical that all of these local units assess their properties at the same level. If they do not, those that are underassessed will be paying less than their fair share when the school and county millages are levied, because they will be paying the same tax rate applied against a lower base than those whose property is properly assessed at 50 percent of value.

In order to avoid this type of discrepancy, the county is required to make certain that all local units within the county are assessing at the same 50 percent level. If any units are found to be underassessing their property, the county must impose a factor to equalize these assessments thus insuring uniformity throughout the county.

This same process must be repeated at the state level to insure that all property within the state is uniformly assessed at the same level. This statewide uniformity will mean that each county and local unit of government will receive its fair share of state revenue sharing funds, and that each school district will receive its fair share of state aid. Both of these programs use the state equalized value (SEV) of the property within each unit as one of the factors in the formula that determines how much money that unit will receive from the state.

Because the equalization process involves entire units of government, the application of an equalization factor may result in an individual property being equalized at a value that is greater than 50 percent of its true cash value. If this should occur, the property owner may protest the assessment. This protest must first be made to the local board of review, which will generally meet in early March. If the owner is not satisfied with the decision of the local

Democratic communications

The Romulus Roman is committed to the effort of fully informing all members of the community of the important issues in this year's election.

To that end, we have always presented both sides of any story, but others have not accepted that responsibility which is inherent in the publishing and dissemination of information.

We feel that the ability to raise sufficient funds to publish a continuing newsletter is not one of the major qualifications that any candidate for office should possess.

We further feel that if that news letter contains only one candidate's viewpoint, it should be regarded with suspicion by all concerned citizens within the community.

But that is not enough. An impression formed, is difficult to correct. For that reason, the Romulus Roman, consistent with its responsibility to the community, will provide any candidate who is accused of wrongdoing by another candidate's literature, the opportunity to respond to those charges or accusations through the pages of the Roman.

The Roman is dedicated to community communications. Only a fully informed public can make the decisions necessary for the best interests of the community at large.

In talking with voters in their homes and around town, I've been asked for my reaction to some of the opposition's campaign smear sheets that are being sent to voters' homes under the guise of being news. Although these so called tabloids and smear sheets have not escaped my attention, I've chosen not to engage in refuting each of the remarks made by my opposition for basically two reasons.

First, they are out and out lies, and I really would rather not say anything that would give credability to lies. For example, the implication that I don't pay some of the same bills others pay is not only vicious, but absurd. The truth is that I have always paid my bills, water and otherwise, in full and on time. The ironic part of the whole story is that some of those who originated these false allegations cannot say the same.

The second reason I have not addressed all the misinformation is that I do not want to be part of the opposition's ludicrous attempt to divert voters' attention from the real issues.

Much of the opposition's activity seems like a rather sad, desperate, last-minute effort to keep the electorate from examining the opposition's true track record in public office. Behind the bellowing and the blundering, they appear to have nothing of substance to offer Romulus, and since they are apparently unable to come up with any facts, they've turned to fiction and fabrication.

The whole situation seems rather sad, because I don't believe the opposition is in tune with the people of Romulus and their need for truth. I do think they will find out that the time has now come when these distorted tactics will no longer work in Romulus and I'm hoping that the good people of Romulus are going to make that message loud and clear at the polls on the eighth of November.

Throughout the campaigning I have continued to address myself to the issues and problems of our community — not personalities, because I believe this is what the voters of Romulus deserve and must demand.

I further believe that my conduct and decorum are a personal reflection of the basic decency of our community's people and what they can expect to see in the mayor's office if I am elected.

The positive and conclusive point to my campaign is, that should I be elected, it will not only be a personal victory, but also I believe, a victory for Romulus, because the voters will have proven that a clean campaign can work and can win in Romulus.

Mayor talks about rumors

Letter to the Editor:

It has come to my attention recently that rumors are being circulated around the city, linking me with the Terry Troutt campaign for mayor.

I would like to publically go on record and unequivocally put these rumors to rest once and for all.

During this campaign, I have never supported Troutt, am not now supporting Troutt, nor will ever support him and his gang of political opportunists. Furthermore, I have never urged my supporters to vote for Troutt and his slate.

After the smear tactics and false innuendoes his cronies spread about me during the primary, I'm not likely now to embrace him, even though the cannon may now reverse its stand and call me a nice guy.

The old-style, influence-peddling, power-mongering, wheeler-dealer days should remain buried where they have been for the past two years.

Also, according to the last issue of the political rag published by the so-called Democratic Club my application for membership is, "still under consideration."

I find that very interesting considering the fact I never personally applied for membership. If indeed such a scrap of paper exists, it is because someone has submitted an application and paid the fee without my knowledge.

If the Romulus Democratic Club were truly that, representative of the will of the majority of Democrats in this city, then I might join. But as it exists today, I will not be a part of nor have my money go for a front organization for the Troutt machine.

In the forthcoming weeks, I will issue a public statement detailing my endorsements for mayor and council.

The World's Greatest Athlete is proud to have been Newspaper Carrier

"It takes steadfastness to be a decathlete man," Bruce Jenner says. "And that's what Newspaper Carriers give you: steady performance every day."

Bruce delivered newspapers through his 5th, 6th and 7th grade years in Tarrytown, N.Y.

"Being a Newspaper Carrier helped me to acquire the discipline I needed for training. And his training paid off."

Grimacing with pain and tension Bruce Jenner crossed the 1,500-meter finish at the Montreal Olympics to win the most grueling of all competitions. The 1976 decathlon champion also won the only Olympic honor more precious than gold: the title of The World's Greatest Athlete.

Now he's asking you to join the Treasury Department in saving "thank you" to your local Newspaper Carrier. It's that day: Newspaper Carrier Day 1977.

Newspaper Carriers have steadily supported the U.S. Savings Bond program, having Bonds regularly with their earnings. Through their Newspaper Carrier Thrift Clubs, many have set aside money for their college educations.

Like Bruce Jenner, they believe in goals for the future. And that's what U.S. Savings Bonds are all about.

A natural athlete and outdoorsman, the 6 ft. 2 in., 195-pound Jenner bicycles, plays tennis, sails, skis and was three-time Eastern water skiing champion.

Caution urged for fisherman

With the salmon and lake trout moving into the shallows fishing fever sometimes overrules common sense among small boat operators on the Great Lakes.

Seemingly unmindful of pending storms or the limitations of their crafts, many fishermen are concerned only with the fishing, but each fall, a certain number of them wind up swimming instead.

Water temperatures have plummeted since summer, survival time has decreased accordingly and those who find themselves in the water are faced with some difficult odds. The predicted survival time following immersion in 50-degree water (Lake Superior frequently has colder fall temperatures) is about 2½ to 3 hours, but this will vary depending on body size and extra fat. However, sudden immersion in bitter water quickly increases the heart rate and blood pressure, occasionally causing death from heart attacks, or ruptured blood vessels, particularly when older people are involved.

Hypothermia is the culprit behind most cold-water deaths, for once the body temperature drops to a point where vital organs can no longer function (usually about 85 degrees) the victim loses consciousness and dies of heart failure. Any action which slows down the cooling rate can mean the difference between being alive or dead when rescue boats arrive. The following suggestions, if followed, will measurably increase the survival rate.

(1) Unless shore is nearby, stay still. The average person in a life jacket cools 35 percent faster when swimming than when remaining motionless. Tests conducted in 50-degree water showed that the average person can swim less than a mile before hypothermia incapacitates him. When life jackets are not worn and treading water is necessary to keep afloat, tests show the cooling rate is 34 percent faster than while holding still in a life jacket. In addition, certain types of life jackets give much more protection against the cold than others and fall fishermen would do well to investigate the insulating capabilities of all styles and brands.

(2) The head sides of the chest and groin are parts of the body which have the highest rate of heat loss, but certain floating positions can help retain body heat and increase the predicted survival time as much as 50 percent. The individual position simply involves holding the inner sides of the arms tight against the chest and raising the thighs as high as possible to protect the groin. If two or three people are in the water, they should cling to one another keeping their chests together as tightly as possible.

(3) Once rescued, a victim of hypothermia should be warmed externally with hot water bottles, hot tubs or electric blankets and internally with hot beverages.

Remind veterans of burial allowance

The Veterans Administration (VA) is reminding former servicemen and women that their families should be made aware of the VA burial allowance available to eligible veterans.

VA provides up to $250 toward the burial expenses of eligible veterans and an additional $150 is available as a plot or interment allowance, if burial is not in a national cemetery or other government cemetery.

Those VA payments will be reduced, or eliminated, in cases where the veteran's employer or a state agency has made such payments.

In cases where a veteran's death is service-connected, VA will pay an amount not to exceed $800 in lieu of the usual burial allowances.

Eligibility requirements for burial at Arlington National Cemetery may be obtained from the Superintendent, Arlington National Cemetery, Arlington, Va. 22211.

An American flag also will be provided upon request for use in covering the casket.

Today's youth forsake God, drink more

Why do we have such an increase in youth problems? Why do we have 1.3 million Americans between the ages of 12 and 17 who have serious drinking problems?

Why? Because God's House (church) is being forsaken. Nehemiah 13:11 asks the question, "Why is the House of God forsaken?"

(1) Because we are not faithful to His command. Luke 14:23: "And the Lord said unto the servant, go out into the highways and hedges, and compel them to come in, that my house may be filled."

(A) "If you love Me, keep my commandments," John 14:15

(B) God commands us to attend church. Hebrews 10:25: "Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another; and so much the more, as ye see the day approaching."

(2) God's House is not filled because there is too much love for pleasure among God's people. II Timothy 3:1-5.

(A) Pleasure is what was wrong in Noah's day.

(B) Pleasure played a big part with Sodom and Gomorrah being destroyed. Forsake not the House of God for the pleasures of this world.

(3) God's House is not filled because there is not enough love shown among God's people.

(A) Jesus said: "A new commandment I give unto you, that ye love one another; as I have loved you, that ye also love one another. By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another." John 13:34-35.

(B) The Bible says: "If ye love not your brother whom ye have seen, how can you love God whom ye have not seen?" I John 4:20.

There needs to be more love in action and less in words.

We need a love of God, We need a love of God's House, We need a love of God's people.

(4) God's House is not filled because there is little concern shown for the lost.

(A) The Bible says: "He that winneth souls is wise." Proverbs 11:30.

(B) The average father and mother show no concern for the spiritual well being of their children.

God's people need to get back to faithful church attendance. They need to bring to church all that they can from the surrounding community.

Friends, God has the answer to all our problems. Visit church this coming Sunday. Be found faithful in church attendance in the future.

God gives us the promise of help in II Chronicles 7:14: "If my people, which are called by my name, shall humble themselves and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, and will forgive their sin, and will heal their land."

The answer to the why's of our problems can be found in God's Word. Friends, church attendance will prove a tremendous blessing to you and yours.

Prevention of problems important

Garden tips for winter's coming — Trim dead, broken or diseased branches from trees and shrubs.

— Cut back ground covers that have overgrown sidewalks, drives or patios.

— Mulch young trees and shrubs with well rotted manure, leaves, wood chips or peat moss.

— Clean all plant debris from the vegetable garden to eliminate overwintering insects and disease organisms. Plow under organic matter or fertilizer; or plant a fall cover crop of rye to plow under next spring to enrich the soil.

— Mulch strawberries and raspberries.

— Rake and destroy fallen leaves and fruits of apples and ornamental crabapple trees to minimize the carryover of this year's disease and insect problems.

— Control insects that came indoors with houseplants that spent the summer outside.

— Fertilize actively growing houseplants and repot any that outgrew their containers over the summer.

— Gather walnuts, hickory nuts and butternuts.

— Collect cones, milkweed pods, meadow grasses and dried weed seed heads for use in dried arrangements, centerpieces, wreaths and other crafts projects.

— Rake the leaves and other debris off your lawn regularly to keep them from matting and injuring the turf. Chop them up and add them to the compost pile or use them as mulch around perennials, shrubs and other plants.

— Keep mowing the lawn as long as it needs it.

— Spray lawns with 2, 4-D for dandelion control. Seeds germinate in the fall and young plants are easy to kill. Plan to spot treat next spring to kill any you miss now.

— Plan a late fall nitrogen application to your lawn after the grass has stopped growing and before snowfall — usually early to mid-November. Apply about one pound of active nitrogen per 1,000 square feet.

— Plant or transplant peonies and other spring-flowering perennials.

Must make up deficit

Advise big cut in Wayne County budget

Recommendations that Wayne County drop more than a dozen programs and cut 983 jobs to make up a $17.3 million deficit are before the County Board of Commissioners.

The cutbacks are contained in the annual budget recommended by the County Board of Auditors. Some 738 of the 983 deleted jobs are filled at present.

The Auditors said programs, which the county is not legally required to operate, must be cut in order to fund services which are the county's legal responsibility.

The recommendations include transfer of psychiatric hospital care to the state and elimination, or sharp curtailment, of a number of law enforcement programs.

Most of the threatened programs have been initiated, or expanded, in recent years with since-expired federal grant funds.

The auditors also recommended staff reductions in virtually every county department.

Elimination of more than 600 jobs would come about through transfer of psychiatric hospital care at Eloise to the state, plus closing of the long-term care facility at Eloise. The 240 long-term care patients would be moved into Wayne county General Hospital in the same complex.

County hospital employees would be offered jobs in the new state psychiatric hospital, Board Chairman John Barr said.

The auditors recommended elimination or sharp cutbacks of programs in the Sheriff's department and elsewhere. Sheriff's programs recommended for elimination are helicopter patrol (six employees, annual cost $240,875); Metro Narcotics Squad (14 employees, $402,665); township patrols (28 employees, $728,685); community relations section (four employees, $105,155).

Also recommended for elimination were the Wayne County Organized Crime Task Force (11 employees, $485,555) and the Prosecutor's Repeat Offenders Bureau (25 employees, $800,000).

The auditors recommended that the Prosecutor's Consumers Protection Agency (10 employees, $244,865) be reduced to the 2-attorney strength that existed before now-expired federal grant funds were used to expand the function.

Also recommended for elimination are the circuit court marriage counseling service (10 employees, $218,330); Recorder's Court Pre-Trial Diversion Project (16 employees, $363,590); Office of Youth Services (five employees, $200,575); Office of Industrial and Commercial Development (three employees, $97,505) and the Office of Volunteer Programs Coordinator (two employees, $51,840).

The Board of commissioners, meeting as the Ways and Means committee, last week began four weeks of budget deliberations. An Oct. 31 board meeting was scheduled for adoption of the annual budget which takes effect Dec. 1.

Meanwhile, Barr and other Wayne County leaders were negotiating with state officials in a bid for more state financial support in order to minimize the cutbacks.

Many of the auditors' recommendations were consistent with measures proposed by Barr recently in his "fiscal recovery program," which he said is necessary due to "unforeseen catastrophic cost increases over which we had absolutely no control".

The move toward transferring psychiatric hospital care to the state, which has that responsibility under law, began after the state refused to increase its financial aid to Wayne County Psychiatric Hospital.

While refusing to increase the aid, the Milliken administration has offered to take over that function at Eloise, the county hospital complex in Westland.

The administration proposes to buy the Walter P. Reuther long-term care building at Eloise and convert it to a psychiatric hospital with 300-350 beds.

The budget recommended by the 3-member Board of Auditors amounts to $366,593,725—$615,180 more than this year's outlays for the smallest increase in years. The auditors recommended $62 million less than the total amount requested by departments.

VAN BUREN TOWNSHIP

WATER DEPARTMENT

Attention Van Buren Residents

Due to increases of materials and labor, water tap fees have been increased at a Township Board Meeting held on September 27, 1977, with the following stipulations:

1. Present homeowners without water taps: An opportunity until December 27, 1977, for present residents with existing homes to apply at the previous rates. At time of application the homeowner will be required to pay 25 percent and the balance to be paid within nine (9) months from date of application. At that time, a certificate of fees paid will be issued to the homeowner. When the homeowner desires to hook up, certificate presented to the water department will be honored. If the total fee is not paid within this period, all monies paid to that date will be returned to the homeowner and future applications by that homeowner will be based on the new fee schedule.

2. New owners, developers, and new construction after the above Township Board action of September 27, 1977, are subject to the following schedule.

WATER TAP: This increase takes effect September 28, 1977, subject to the above conditions:

Sen. Faust supports lobby reform bill

The lobbying reform bill now before the Michigan Senate is getting strong support from Senate Majority Leader William Faust (D-13th District).

"I am pleased to endorse this bill because, if enacted, it will result in making public all pertinent information regarding who is attempting to influence legislation, as well as how much effort and money these individuals and organizations are putting into their endeavors," Faust said.

The Majority Leader said the intent of the bill, introduced by State Sen. Gary G. Corbin (D-Clio), is consistent with the political reform spirit of the campaign financing act approved last year by the legislature.

"It also is compatible with the wishes of the electorate for a policy of full disclosure to prevail in all governmental matters," Faust added.

The lobbying reform bill would require lobbyists and their agents to register annually with the Secretary of State, as they must now do, but would also require them to file quarterly reports detailing their expenditures.

For example, they would have to report those occasions and the names of the public officials involved when $1 or more is spent on food and beverages.

In addition, they would have to file an accounting of all financial transactions with public officials or members of their families in which $500 or more is involved; expenditures for advertising and mass mailing; and all other expenses.

"Furthermore," Faust said, "the bill contains the necessary penalties to assure that it will be taken seriously."

"And although it will effectively curtail abuses in the system, it will not prohibit it from functioning."

Driver ed classes slated at YWCA

Registrations now are being accepted for the fall driver's Education classes at the YWCA of Western Wayne County.

The classes will meet three times a week for five weeks, beginning Monday.

Students instruction will be from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. and 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday and will cost $83. Adult instruction will be on the first Saturday or third Thursday of the month and will cost $62.50.

The YWCA is located at 26279 Michigan Avenue between Beech Daly and John Daly in Inkster. For further information contact the "Y" at 561-4110.

Dental services available

Complete dental services are now available to Medicaid eligible children between the ages of 4 through 12 years by the Wayne County Health Department.

Health Department Dental Director, Dr. Kenneth Shmarak, in announcing the new policy, indicated that newly developed dental facilities, coupled with revised management programs, have allowed the dental program to expand its patient load.

Parents with a valid Medicaid card, needing dental care for their children, should call 274-2800, ext. 315, weekdays between 8:30 and 4:30 p.m.

"What should I look for in a nursing home?"

People often tell us about their experiences with nursing homes. We have some very fine ones in our city and these are just some of the things to look for in choosing a nursing home.

1. Consult first with your doctor as to the particular type and amount of care required.
2. Visit the facility yourself, alone.
3. Does the home provide all the services your doctor requires?
4. If the patient is dependent on Medicare or Medicaid, does the nursing home participate in both programs?
5. Obtain and read the "patient's Bill of rights." This is posted conspicuously and it gives the regulations necessary to be certified for Medicare and Medicaid.
6. Who is the "house" doctor? Is he available on staff or on-call 24 hours? How many registered nurses?
7. Are emergency patient transfers to a hospital provided for? How far away is it?
8. What is the exact total monthly covered and what is and is NOT covered? Is a written basic service agreement available?

Be sure to discuss with the patient's doctor other special services he may require — special diet, exercise, personal attention too.

Natural gas supply is more than enough for coming winter

Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. is assuring its one million customers of adequate natural gas supplies for the coming winter.

Charles R. Montgomery, the utility's president, said Michigan Consolidated's gas supplies continue to be among the best in the nation. "The company's storage fields in central and southeastern Michigan will be filled as planned by the end of October," he said, "And no further increases in curtailments of deliveries by major pipeline suppliers are expected."

Gas however, will cost more this winter. It is expected that with normal weather a typical residential heating customer will pay about 15 percent — or $4.50 a month — more for gas this year.

Montgomery said a major part of this increase is caused by the higher prices Michigan Consolidated must pay for gas supply.

For example, the cost of fuel oil for home heating is now about 1½ times more than natural gas.

Michigan Consolidated rates, he added, remain among the lowest of the gas utilities serving the county's 25 major metropolitan areas.

While Michigan Consolidated will be able to supply the gas needs of all its firm customers this winter, Montgomery said service probably will be interrupted for up to two weeks to interruptible customers.

Donna R. Nastek graduates from helicopter training

Airman Donna R. Nastek, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Nastek of Dracut, Mass., has graduated at Sheppard Air Force Base, Tex., from the U.S. Air Force technical training course for helicopter mechanics.

Her husband, Brian M. Musiet, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Musiet of Indian Trails, Carleton.

Airman Nastek, who was trained to inspect and perform maintenance on helicopters, is being assigned to Elmendorf Air Force Base, Alaska, for duty with a unit of the Alaskan Air Command.

Completion of the course earned her credits towards an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.

The airman, a 1972 graduate of Dracut High School, received a bachelor of science degree in 1976 from Fitchburg (Mass.) State College.

Also in the armed forces:

S. Sgt. Frank J. Lokey, the son of retired Air Force Tech. Sgt. and Mrs. James S. Lokey of Murfreesboro, Tenn., has graduated from Troy State University's extension at Valdosta, Ga., with bachelor of applied science degree in management.

Sgt. Lokey completed college studies through the U.S. Air Force off-duty education program.

The sergeant is assigned at Mody Air Force Base, as a disbursement accounting supervisor with a unit of the Tactical Air Command.

Sgt. Lokey is a 1971 graduate of Murfreesboro Central High School and received an applied science degree in business administration from Troy State University in Montgomery, Ala.

His wife, Marjorie, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee A. Wauer of Savage Road, Belleville.

Ronald L. O'Dell, 18, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John O'Dell of Harrison, Romulus, has entered the U.S. Air Force's Delayed Enlistment Program (DEP).

According to S. Sgt. Jim Cole, the Air Force recruiter in Garden City, O'Dell will commence four years active duty on Feb. 8, undergoing six weeks' basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex.

The Air Force has guaranteed that O'Dell, a 1977 graduate of Romulus Senior High School, will receive Aerospace Ground Equipment Mechanic training, and upon completion be assigned to an Air Force duty station.

Craig S. Adams, 17, the son of Mrs. Marleen Adams of Taft, Romulus, has entered the U.S. Air Force's Delayed Enlistment Program (DEP).

According to S. Sgt. Jim Cole, the Air Force recruiter, Adams will commence four years active duty on Feb. 8, undergoing six weeks' basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex.

The Air Force has guaranteed that Adams, a 1977 graduate of Romulus Senior High School, will receive Aerospace Ground Equipment Mechanic training, and upon completion be assigned to an Air Force duty station.

Wayne County joins suit on lake pollution

Wayne County will join Van Buren Township in a lawsuit against three Washtenaw County communities and two State agencies to stop the pollution of Belleville Lake.

County and township officials are charging that the pollution is being caused by raw and untreated sewage coming from Washtenaw County treatment plants.

"It is my hope that this lawsuit will force state officials to supervise and control every sewage treatment plant in Michigan on a full-time basis. That is not now being done," stated Wayne County Commissioner Royce E. Smith of Belleville who has been advocating more state involvement in cleaning up Belleville Lake.

The suit, already filed by Van Buren Township in Wayne County Circuit Court, has charged Ypsilanti Township, the cities of Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti, the State Department of Natural Resources (DNR) and the State Water Resources Commission, with neglect in contaminating Belleville Lake.

The suit asks that immediate steps be taken to restore Belleville Lake to its former healthy condition and that state agencies be compelled to supervise and control the operation of the sewage disposal systems in the three Washtenaw County communities that are upstream from Belleville Lake.

The legal action was approved by the Wayne County Board of Commissioners Oct. 6 after receiving a recommendation to sue from its Public Works Committee.

The Public Works Committee, chaired by Commissioner Edgar L. Harris of Taylor, was acting on a resolution introduced by Commissioners Smith and Thomas Presnell of Westland calling for a state investigation of the pollution problem.

"Maybe this lawsuit will persuade the DNR to carry a big stick and demand that Washtenaw County meet U.S. environmental standards," Smith said, following the Board action.

"I've been disappointed for some time with the actions and lack of action by DNR officials," he added. "They say they haven't been able to identify the source of pollution — yet they have steadfastly refused to do an environmental impact study to determine what effect the proposed expansion of the Ypsilanti sewage treatment plants would have on Western Wayne County."

Smith said the DNR and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) approved federal and state grants for a new Ypsilanti treatment plant on the Huron River without preparing an official impact statement.

Collegians for a day

The students pictured above were among the 37 from Belleville High School who attended Eastern Michigan University's recent annual Community Night. Students from 11 Michigan high schools took part in the event, which is designed to allow high school students to see their former classmates play college football and to get acquainted with Eastern. Kevin and Roy Rutherford, graduates of Belleville, are members of the EMU Huron football squad.

Free phones slated in city for emergency

The first pay telephones to handle free emergency calls will be activated in about two weeks in the City of Romulus.

The new Dial Tone First service will allow callers to reach an operator ("O"), without depositing coins.

Harry Wilson, manager for Michigan Bell, said the start-up of Dial Tone First will see team members beginning the on-site visits necessary to activate the 278 pay phones in the Romulus exchange.

As the Michigan Bell conversion team makes each pay phone ready to handle the new service, an instruction card will be placed on it to inform the caller that all he or she has to do to get dial tone is to lift the receiver.

A special sticker also will be placed on each outdoor phone booth as an aid in identifying those that have been converted.

Wilson described the final on-site rewiring of the individual telephones as the "tip of the iceberg" when compared with the scope of the overall conversion job that is expected to run at least $15 million for Michigan Bell's 51,000 pay phones across the state.

The outside work must be preceded by extensive central office modification and the addition of new equipment by Western Electric, the manufacturing and supply unit of the Bell System, he added.

Handicapped making strides for equality in employment

Public observances are a regular part of our American way of doing things. It's easy to get caught up in the activities and sometimes forget what is being observed—and why.

This month Bill Kiser, who is severely handicapped by Cerebral Palsy, has given a lot of thought to what it means to have a disability and his thoughts reflect on where we've been, where we are and where we have yet to go.

By BILL KISER

Following the end of World War II, President Harry S. Truman took an action that began a battle we still are waging in this country. That action was the establishment of the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped, and that battle is for full equality in employment of disabled people.

We are beginning, after all these years, to see signs of victory.

Improved medical care, both on the battlefield and at home, had led to an ever-increasing number of disabled persons—veterans and civilians. The country had to do something. Truman recognized that opportunity for employment offered the only realistic hope for the handicapped to have a better life.

One of the first necessities was a change in attitudes. It generally was thought that people with any type of physical or mental impairments had to be taken care of for the rest of their lives. If they had families, the physical and economic burdens fell there. If not, institutionalization—with the expenses borne either by private charitable organizations or public agencies—was the only other option considered.

For progress to be made, it was essential for employers and co-workers alike to be educated to the fact that handicapped people could be productive.

I'm old enough to remember the first publicity efforts regarding employment of the handicapped. Quite naturally, I hoped these efforts would lead to a job for me. But the picture was not as rosy as it seemed. As my personal attempts to find a job ended in failure year after year, I became cynical. Invariably, I was told: "Oh, yes, we are employing the handicapped, but no one as severely handicapped as you."

There will be those who say it is impossible to find employment for the more severely disabled. Thirty years ago these same cynics were scoffing at the idea that people without arms or legs could work on production lines, much less hold professional or managerial positions. President Carter's appointment of a triple amputee as administrator of the third-largest federal agency should lay that belief to rest, for once and for all. By further utilizing the techniques of rehabilitation engineering and job modification, we can look forward to the employment of an ever-increasing number of severely disabled people.

However, their success in the world of work still depends in large part on an understanding public.

Scientists and engineers can devise all types of ingenious ways for disabled people to function, but these will be useless unless employers are convinced that disabled individuals can perform the jobs they need done.

But, things are getting better. The public is more aware, as disabled people are becoming more confident and more articulate. The first White House Conference on Handicapped Individuals, coupled with the signing of the Section 504 Regulations of the 1973 Rehabilitation Act, signalled a turning point. Winning the battle is, at long last, within our reach.

President Carter recently established the tone for the country when he urged all branches of the government to "set an example for fair employment practices by demonstrating what can be done to make the fullest possible use of the abilities of qualified handicapped people."

CITY OF ROMULUS ORDINANCE

CHAPTER VI ARTICLE 4 (A)

AN ORDINANCE for safeguarding life and property by regulating, and providing for the inspection, the installation, alteration, repairing, servicing and maintenance of electrical equipment; to provide for the licensing and registration of Electrical Contractors, Master Electricians, and Journeyman Electricians; to provide for the administration and enforcement thereof; to provide for a Board of Electrical Examiners and its powers and duties; to provide a reciprocal arrangement for the recognition of examinations and licenses issued by other municipalities in the State of Michigan cooperating in the enforcement of a similar ordinance; to provide a penalty for violations thereof and to repeal all ordinances in conflict therewith.

It is hereby ordained by the people of the City of Romulus

Short Title: Electrical Ordinance

SECTION 1. ELECTRICAL INSPECTION. The Board of Electrical Examiners, also referred to in this Ordinance as the Inspection Authority and Examining Board, shall have and hereby is given jurisdiction, subject to review as hereinafter provided, over the inspection of all electrical installations, including changes, repairs and additions thereto within the City of Romulus. The Director of Building and Safety shall appoint an Electrical Inspector who shall inspect all electrical installations and report to the Inspection Authority. This jurisdiction shall apply to the installation of wiring devices, apparatus and equipment for connection to electricity supply systems having voltages over 30 volts, except as provided in Section 4 (B); however, jurisdiction shall apply in all systems and all voltages when safety to life and property is involved.

SECTION 2. FEES FOR INSPECTION. When an application is made for a permit required under the terms of the ordinance, a fee shall be paid in an amount as prescribed by the Council of the City of Romulus.

SECTION 3. RIGHT OF ACCESS TO BUILDINGS. The Electrical Inspector and/or his deputy shall have the right during reasonable hours to enter any building in the discharge of his official duties for the purpose of making any inspection or test of the installation of electric wiring, electric devices and/or electric material contained therein and shall have the authority to cause the turning off of all electric supply and cut or disconnect, in cases of emergency, any wire where such electrical currents are dangerous to life or property or may interfere with the work of the Fire Department.

SECTION 4. PERMITS. No alterations or additions shall be made in the existing wiring of any building, nor shall any building be wired for the placing of any electric lights, motors, heating devices, or any apparatus requiring the use of electrical current at a potential over 30 volts, nor shall any alterations be made in the wiring in any building after inspection, without first notifying the Electrical Inspector and securing a permit therefore. Applications for such permit, describing such work, shall be made by the person, firm, or corporation installing same and permit when issued shall be to such applicant.

B. This section shall not apply to maintenance and repairs on the premises of a person, firm or corporation regularly employing qualified electricians for that purpose, nor such minor repair work as repairing flush and snap switches, replacing fuses, changing lamp sockets and receptacles, taping bare joints or repairing drop cords.

A. PERSONS TO WHOM PERMITS SHALL BE ISSUED:

(1) A holder of an electrical contractor's license.

(2) A person employing a licensed electrical journeyman to actively supervise the new installation of electrical equipment on premises owned or occupied, and used, by the applicant in the conduct of his business, and at which premises the licensed electrician performs his duties in those instances where business or industrial procedure requires the regular employment of a licensed electrical journeyman. However, an affidavit form furnished by the administrative authority shall be signed by both the employer and the licensed journeyman. This affidavit shall be kept on file in the offices of the administrative authority, and shall contain the following:

(a) Name and business address of the person employing the licensed electrical journeyman

(b) Name, address, and current license number of the licensed electrical journeyman.

(c) License numbers of 2 previous years, and the name of licensing authority in order to establish the holding of a license for not less than 2 years.

(d) Statement to the effect that the employer and the licensed electrical journeyman will comply with the provisions of the code regulating installation of electrical equipment in the state. A new affidavit shall be filed before permits are issued if the licensed electrical journeyman terminates his employment.

(3) A homeowner who comes under the jurisdiction of the code.

SECTION 5. INSPECTION. Upon the completion of the wiring of any building, it shall be the duty of the person, firm or corporation installing the same to notify the Building Department who shall notify the Electrical Inspector to inspect the installation as soon as possible, and if it is found to be fully in compliance with this ordinance and does not constitute a hazard to life and property, he shall issue on request to such person, firm, or corporation for delivery to the owner a certificate of inspection authorizing connection to the electrical service and the turning on of the current. All wires which are to be hidden from view shall be inspected before concealment and any person, firm or corporation installing such wires shall notify the Building Department giving sufficient time in which to make the required inspection before such wires are concealed.

SECTION 6. RE-INSPECTION. The Electrical Inspector may make periodically a thorough re-inspection of the installation in buildings of all electric wiring, electric devices and electric material now installed or that may hereafter be installed, within the City of Romulus and when the installation of any such wiring, devices, and/or material is found to be in a dangerous or unsafe condition, the person, firm or corporation owning, using or operating the same shall be notified and shall make the necessary repairs or changes required to place such wiring, devices and material in a safe condition and have such work completed within fifteen days, or any longer period specified by the electrical inspector in said notice. The Electrical Inspector is hereby empowered to disconnect or order in writing the discontinuance of Electrical Inspector is hereby empowered to disconnect or order in writing the discontinuance of electrical service to such wiring, devices, and/or material so found to be defectively installed until the installation of such wiring, devices and materials has been made safe as directed by the Electrical Inspector.

SECTION 7. CONSTRUCTION REQUIREMENTS. No certificate of inspection shall be issued unless the electrical installation is in strict conformity with the provisions of this ordinance, the statutes of the State of Michigan, the rules and regulations issued by the Michigan Public Service Commission under the authority of the State statutes, and unless they are in conformity with approved methods of construction for safety to persons and property. The regulations as laid down in the National Electrical Code, as approved by the American Standards Association in the National Electrical Safety Code, as approved by the American Standards Association, and in the administrative rules and regulations established as hereinafter provided (Section 10, Par. F) shall be prima facie evidence of such approved methods.

SECTION 8. APPROVED MATERIALS. It shall be unlawful to install or use any electrical device, apparatus, or equipment designed for attachment to, or installation on any electrical circuit or system for heat, light or power that is not of good design and construction and safe and adequate for its intended use. The Electrical Inspector shall have power to disapprove the use or installation of devices not fulfilling these requirements. Devices, apparatus and equipment approved by such generally recognized authorities as United States Bureau of Standards, Electrical Testing Laboratories of New York, or Underwriters Laboratories shall be held to have the approval of the Electrical Inspector unless explicitly disapproved by said Authority for reasons of faulty design and poor construction involving danger to persons and/or property.

B. It shall be the duty of the Electrical Inspector from time to time to inspect devices, apparatus and equipment offered to the public for use in installation to see that such items conform to the above requirements.

SECTION 9. RECORD AND REVIEW. The Building Department shall keep complete records of all permits issued and inspections made and other official work performed under the provisions of this Ordinance.

B. When the Electrical Inspector condemns all or part of any electrical installation the owner or his agent may within five days after receiving written notice from the Electrical Inspector, file a petition in writing for review of said action of the Electrical Inspector with the Board of Electrical Examiners, upon receipt of which the said Board of Electrical Examiners shall at once proceed to determine whether said electrical installation complies with this ordinance, and within three days shall make a decision in accordance with its findings.

SECTION 10. LICENSE FOR ELECTRICAL WORK. A Board of Electrical Examiners is hereby constituted consisting of the Electrical Inspector of the City of Romulus, a representative of an Electrical Utility Company, a licensed Electrical Contractor, who is also a licensed Master Electrician, a licensed Journeyman Electrician, and the said Electrical Contractor and Journeyman Electrician shall have had at least 10 years experience in electrical work. The members of said Board of Examiners shall be appointed by the City Council for such terms as shall be designated at the time of appointment. This Board shall examine all applicants for either Master Electrician's or Journeyman Electrician's licenses. Applicants failing to pass will not be eligible for re-examination in any reciprocating Municipality for a period of thirty days. All applicants for license shall designate their legal address as the location of their residence in case of Journeyman and Master Electricians, and their legal address as the principal place of business in the case of electrical contractors. All Electrical Contractors, Master Electricians, and Journeyman Electricians having their legal address within the corporate limits of the City of Romulus shall secure their license from the said City of Romulus Building Department.

The Board of Electrical Examiners shall prepare the application blanks, prescribe the examination and meet at least once a month or on call of the Electrical Inspector to hold examinations. Due notice shall be given applicants of the date of examinations.

All applications for examination shall be in writing. The examination shall consist of an oral or written examination as the Examining Board shall determine, and such other practical tests in examination at the discretion of the Examining Board.

B. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to engage as an independent contractor in the installation, alteration, maintenance or repair of electrical wiring, equipment, apparatus or fixtures for light, heat or power purposes where the electromotive force exceeds 30 volts in or about buildings and/or structures located within the City of Romulus without first having procured a license.

ELECTRICAL CONTRACTOR'S LICENSE REQUIREMENTS

An applicant for an electrical contractor's license shall be over 18 years of age and shall be the holder of a master electrician's license, or shall regularly employ a person who is the holder of a master electrician's license who shall be actively in charge of work for the applicant.

To be issued by community in which business is located.

C. It shall be unlawful for any person to engage in the occupation or trade of Journeyman Electrician in the installation, alteration, maintenance or repair of electrical wiring equipment, apparatus or fixtures for light, heat, power or medical structures within the City of Romulus without having first taken the examination and obtained a license as herein provided. This provision shall not apply to helpers and apprentices, provided such work as they may do is performed under the direction and supervision of licensed Journeyman Electricians who shall be on the premises at all times when such helpers or apprentices are performing such work on the premises.

JOURNEYMAN ELECTRICIAN LICENSE REQUIREMENTS. An applicant in order to qualify for examination for a Journeyman Electrician License shall have attained the age of 18 years and shall be able to show four years of practical experience in the type of electrical construction or maintenance work for which a license is required. In lieu of four years of practical experience, an applicant shall present evidence of a total of not less than four years in a combination of practical experience and training at a recognized trade or technical school, provided this includes a minimum of one year practical experience. Evidence in writing from employers and technical schools shall be submitted by the applicant, showing type of work performed and length of time employed. All applicants shall submit to an examination as hereinafter provided.

D. MASTER ELECTRICIAN LICENSE REQUIREMENTS. An applicant for a Master Electrician License shall submit to the examination hereinafter provided and have attained the age of 18 years.

Said applicant for a Master Electrician License shall have passed the examination for and had issued to him a Journeyman Electrician License for a period of at least two years. He shall further agree that if a Master Electrician License is issued, he will notify the Board in writing within 72 hours (three working days) of a change of employment where such employment was necessary to qualify his employer as an electrical contractor. Willful or negligent failure to give such notice to the Board shall be grounds for suspension or revocation of such license.

E. The fee for an Electrical Contractor's, Master Electrician's and Journeyman Electrician's license shall be prescribed by City Council. Licenses shall expire on December 31st of each year, and shall be renewed upon application by the licensee, together with the payment of the required fee. After March 1st, all licenses not renewed shall be considered cancelled and may not be renewed except upon approval of the Examining Board. Electrical Contractor's, Master Electrician's and Journeyman Electrician's licenses shall be issued by the Electrical Inspector upon recommendation of the Examining Board. Licenses issued under this ordinance shall be non-transferable and shall be displayed when required. Electrical Contractor's licenses under the terms of this ordinance shall not secure permits for work to be done by any person not employed by said electrical contractor, and license may be revoked for violation of this rule.

No license shall be recognized by the City of Romulus unless such licenses are issued by a cooperating Municipality having an Examining Board.

The City of Romulus shall permit Electrical Contractors lawfully licensed by other municipalities of the State of Michigan to install, alter or repair electrical wiring, equipment, apparatus of fixtures for light, heat or power purposes within the corporate limits of the City of Romulus, upon payment of a registration fee, provided that such municipalities reciprocate in recognizing Electrical Contractors who are duly licensed under the provisions of this ordinance by granting them the same privilege and charging the same uniform license and registration fees. Provided further, that the licensing ordinances are substantially equal to the requirements of this ordinance. Journeyman Electricians duly licensed by any municipality cooperating in the reciprocal arrangement shall be permitted to work in the City of Romulus without the payment of a registration fee. Provided, however, that any Journeyman Electrician doing work within the City of Romulus, and holding a license from a cooperating municipality, shall register with the Building Department.

No Electrical Contractors' licenses shall be recognized, for the purpose of registration, by the City of Romulus of applicants who maintain their principal place of business in a municipality which fails to approve, by affirmative action of its legislative body, the reciprocal and mutually interchangeable licensing arrangements covered by this ordinance.

Corporations applying for Electrical Contractor's licenses, whose principal place of business is not in the State of Michigan, should obtain such license from the State of Michigan Electrical Administrative Board upon the payment of the prescribed fee.

Any Electrical Contractors, Master of Journeyman's license may, after a hearing, be suspended or revoked by the Examining Board having issued such license upon evidence presented that false statements have been made upon application for license or upon evidence presented that the person, firm or corporation holding such license willfully or by reason of incompetence repeatedly violates any rules and regulations relating to the inspection, maintenance, alteration or repair of electrical wiring, devices, appliances or equipment.

F. The Board of Electrical Examiners is hereby empowered and it shall be their duty to promulgate and recommend such rules and regulations concerning electrical work in the City of Romulus as may be required to properly provide for the situations therein. The rules and regulations so made by the Board of Electrical Examiners shall be effective upon approval by the City Council, and shall take precedence over plans, specifications and National Electric Code Rules.

G. A licensed electrician shall not be required for any wiring in or on a home and accompanying outbuildings owned, occupied or to be occupied by the person performing the installation, alteration or repair of wiring, devices, appliances and appurtenances, providing the Inspector deems such person qualified to perform such work and such person obtains a permit as required by this code.

SECTION 11. EXCEPTIONS. The provisions of this ordinance shall not apply to the following:

(A) The installing of radio receiving sets and equipment. (The installation of convenience outlets for power supply to a radio set shall be subject to such rules and regulations.)

(B) This ordinance and its provisions shall not apply to apparatus and equipment installed by or for any public utility operating under the jurisdiction of the Michigan Public Service Commission in the exercise of its function as a utility and when such apparatus or equipment is used primarily for the generation or distribution of electric current or for signal or communication purposes.

SECTION 12 PENALTY. Any person, firm or corporation who shall fail to comply with any of the provisions hereof, shall upon conviction thereof, be subject to a fine of not more than five-hundred ($500.00) dollars or imprisonment in the City prison or the jail of the County of Wayne or any other place of confinement provided by the City of Romulus for such purpose in the discretion of the Court for a period not to exceed ninety (90) days, or both such fine and imprisonment in the discretion of the Court unless otherwise provided in this ordinance.

SECTION 13 REPEAL OF CONFLICTING ORDINANCES. All ordinances or parts of ordinances conflicting with the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed.

Should any section, subdivision, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance be declared by the Courts to be invalid the same shall not affect the validity of the ordinance as a whole or any part thereof other than the part so invalidated.

SECTION 14 LIABILITY. This ordinance shall not be construed to relieve from or lessen the responsibility or liability of any party owning, operating, controlling or installing any electric wiring, electric devices and/or electric material for damages to person or property caused by any defect therein nor shall the City of Romulus or its agents be held as assuming any such liability by reason of the inspection authorized herein, or certificate of inspection issued as herein provided.

SECTION 15 This ordinance shall take effect immediately upon the passage and publication thereof.

I, Leonard J. Folmar, Clerk for the City of Romulus, do hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of an ordinance adopted by the Romulus City Council their regular meeting held October 4, 1977. Leonard J. Folmar, Clerk City of Romulus

ATTEST:
James C. Stewart, Mayor
City of Romulus

Within forty five (45) days after the publication of any ordinance duly adopted by the Council, a petition may be presented to the Council protesting against such ordinance continuing in effect. Said petition shall contain the text of such ordinance and shall be signed by not less than six (6 percent) percent of the registered electors registered at the last preceding election at which a Mayor of the City was elected. Said ordinance shall thereupon and thereby be suspended from operation and the Council shall immediately reconsider such ordinance.

Hobbit puppets to make debut

It took Rusty Steiger nearly six years to develop the 30 almost life size puppets which will appear in J.R.R. Tolkien's "THE HOBBIT" at Churchill High Auditorium on October 18.

The 30 little creatures with foam or liquid rubber faces include the charming and not-so-charming Bilbo, Baggins, Smaug the Dragon and Grandolf the Wizard. Curtain time is 8:00 p.m.

This unique Puppet Theatre and its mysterious, magical tale of long ago is aimed at adults and enjoyed by children. Six puppeteers operate the puppets and eight actors provide 30 different voices on tape. There is also taped background music. The stage is 20 feet wide with three different playing areas.

Sponsored by the Schoolcraft College Cultural & Public Affairs Series, tickets are $2 for adults and $1 for students and are available at the College Bookstore, 18600 Haggerty Road, Livonia, Michigan. Advance tickets are recommended.

Churchill High is located at 8900 Newburgh Road, Livonia, Michigan.

For further information, phone the Public Affairs Office at 591-6400 Ext. Schoolcraft College Cultural & 217.

TODAY'S Real Estate
by M. Phyllis Crabtree

Terms of home mortgages have lengthened substantially. Conventional institutions lend for 20 years or more. FHA insures mortgages on new homes for 35 or 40 years. Long-term mortgages allow some families with relatively low income to become homeowners. They enable some to buy more expensive houses than would otherwise be possible. They may make it easier to sell a house when necessary, because buyers may be attracted by a long-term mortgage and a small cash downpayment.

Buyers and sellers alike rely on CENTURY 21 COMMUNITY REALTORS, 10675 Belleville Rd. for quick action. Avoid the many costly mistakes inherent in home buying by depending on CENTURY 21 for all your needs. We do a great deal of work with people that have transferred into this area and will advertise your home for fast results. Phone us at 697-2121.

DID YOU KNOW?
Income tax deductions from interest paid can be made as long as payment on mortgage interest is being made.

Latest fall creations

A ruffle at the hem of any dress adds the fashion touch that is truly feminine and flattering. Mulholland's fashion store, located in Wayne's Metro Place Mall, has a style right for you, from the printed, ruffled dress to warm, wooly fashions. Mulholland's buyer Helen Hubbs selected a belted print dress that shows that the skirt is still very much "in."—ANP photo.

Fall fashions for milady

So you're looking for fashion this winter, but don't want to spend the season being cold. The Bargain Boutique, a subsidiary of Dancer's Fashions, has the fall and winter fashions for you. This plaid jumper and sweater, which can be topped with a matching jacket, will keep you warm and in style. The Bargain Boutique is located in Wayne's Metro Place Mall, and Julie Fitzer, (left) and Gail Hindrick are displaying just one of many outfits available to shoppers. —ANP photo.

A suit for autumn

Men can find a wide assortment of suit styles and colors at Art Allen's men's clothing store on Michigan Avenue in Wayne as they prepare their fall wardrobes. Above, Allen is showing four of the suit styles he features for autumn. Allen is wearing a vested suit in a light gray, with a fine red thread running through the fabric. The plaid suit is shown in a blue tone, but is also available in green and brown tones. The dark suit is featured in a chocolate brown, but also comes in navy and gray, and the light suit is in a brown tone. —ANP photo.

New fashions stress warmth

The well-heeled woman of Western Wayne County doesn't have to sacrifice warmth for fashion as the winter season approaches.

High boots, big sweaters and the "layered look" in clothing will give the area shopper a chic look and a warm wrap against the blistery cold winter that is expected again this year.

Clothing stores in the area have been displaying winter fashions for several weeks, and now that the cool weather seems to be here to stay, it's time for the wise shopper to plan her wardrobe for the chill ahead.

The sweater is in this fall and winter, particularly the belted wraps and bulky wools, worn over a shirt or knit top to provide a layered, cuddly look. Warm pants neatly tucked into boots will be a popular style.

And yes, women are still wearing skirts this fall season, ranging from the vested corduroy outfits to jumpers and matching coats. Plaids are making an appearance in area stores, and 3-piece suits for women will be seen at every occasion this season.

Print knit dresses are always in style, with lots of ruffles at the hem giving winter clothes an added feminine touch.

And women certainly don't have a corner on fashion any more. Men's clothing stores have a variety of popular styles for men, again with emphasis on the vested suit, sweaters and sweater vests.

Naturally, your own personal style and type of clothing depends on what looks good on you, and area clothing salespersons are ready to help you find the fashion that compliments you the best.

Detroit Symphony concert to cater to young people

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra will be "playing up a storm" at Ford Auditorium Saturday, Oct. 22 when the DSO Young People's Concerts Series opens with a program entitled "Rain, Rain Go Away — DSO Weather Report".

DSO Conductor-in-Residence Paul Freeman will conduct at the 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. concerts which will feature cartoonist Sid Stone as special guest.

The Young People's series is a perennial favorite with the area's young concert audience. The programs are designed to present substantial musical works in an entertaining package, aimed at listeners from tots to pre-teen age.

This week Dr. Freeman will introduce the youngsters to works in which the composers have created musically the sensations of a rainstorm. The orchestra will perform illustrative excerpts from Beethoven's Sixth Symphony (4th movement), Grofé's Grand Canyon Suite (5th movement "Cloud Bursts"), Wagner's Storm Music from "Die Walkure" and Rossini's Storm Music from the William Tell Overture.

If the children have any trouble seeing the "musical pictures" created in Kodaly's "Hary Janos" Suite, they will find the images brought into clear focus as cartoonist Sid Stone sketches while the orchestra performs that work. Also on the program will be Richard Hayman's lively arrangement of "Petersburg Sleighride."

Subscriptions are available for "Earlybirds" Series at 11 a.m. or "Lazybirds" Series at 2 p.m.

Single tickets will be available at the door or in advance at Ford Auditorium Box Office, "Detroit Tonight Tours" at the Plaza Hotel, and all Hudson's and Ward's ticket outlets at $4, $3 and $2.50.

X-ray technician is 1977 Miss Torchy

The United Foundation's Miss Torchy for 1977 is Sandra Lynn Kozma of Southfield, an X-ray technician at Sinai Hospital of Detroit.

The 27-year-old Miss Kozma was selected from a field of 41 candidates in the UF's annual Miss Torchy contest.

During this year's Torch Drive, Oct. 18-Nov. 10, Miss Kozma will represent the United Foundation, its agencies and volunteers at campaign meetings, luncheons and rallies throughout the tri-county area.

All organizations participating in the Miss Torchy program won Honor Awards for outstanding achievement during the 1976 Torch Drive. This year, for the first time, both single and married women were eligible to participate in the contest.

A graduate of Cherry Hill High School in Inkster, Miss Kozma studied radiologic technology at St. Francis Hospital in Escanaba, Michigan. She currently serves as supervisor of CT scans for Sinai Hospital's department of radiology.

The Torch Drive supports nearly 140 health and community service agencies in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties. General Chairman for the 1977 campaign is Gwain H. Gillespie, executive vice president-finance, Chrysler Corporation.

This year's campaign goal has been set at $39,100,000, the highest ever in the United Foundation's 29-year history.

Then (1957) — —

Just by glancing at the strapless bodices, bouffant ballerina-length skirts and hairdos, one can tell this is not a current homecoming court picture. Taken exactly 20 years ago, on Oct. 12, the quintet's portrait was shot at

— — and now (1977)

At the BHS class of 1957's recent reunion dinner-dance, the same group of gals (now all married women) were on the scene to renew friendships with their classmates or their husbands' classmates. Since the 1957 homecoming court also included underclassmen (not strictly seniors) it was an unusual occurrence to have the complete court

Homecoming 'royalty', circa '57, together at class reunion

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

Those girls who are vying for the honor of being part of Belleville High School's homecoming court for 1977, we'd care to guess, have absolutely no thought to what a reunion would be like some 20 years from now.

Since the case of the BHS class of 1957 was brought to our attention and since it ties in so nicely with this weekend's festivities, WE are calling to their attention what just might happen to them come 1997.

John L. Morris, a member of that particular group of ex-students, was the instigator for this special article; bringing in photos of "then and now" and also the information on the class' recent 20-year get-together.

John, who was emcee for the dinner-dance at Win Schuler's in Ann Arbor, was the only one (other than his wife) who realized that among those attending would be the entire court from the Belleville 1957 homecoming. What made it so unusual was that 20 years ago the court did NOT consist solely of senior girls. The fact that the non-senior members had married into the class of '57 brought about the ultimate reuniting of "past royalty."

Sally Brewer Russell, who had worn the queen's crown, was there from Orchard Lake with her husband; Glenda Ritter Perry and her husband arrived from Temperance; Gloria Haft Jahner and her husband traveled from Tecumseh with Belvillites Sandy Rady Askew and Gay Stoddard Morris and their mates completing the picture.

General chairman of the party, which included a collection of old yearbooks, scrapbooks, school papers and photographs displayed in a special hospitality suite, was Bob Padgett of Canton.

All but seven of the 142 class members were able to be contacted with better than 50 percent answering the invitation. The 180 attending came from California, Alabama, West Virginia, Georgia, Tennessee, Ohio and all parts of Michigan.

The class sponsor, Carl Ruff, and his wife, Erma, were guests of honor at the party. Among the group's former teachers attending were Mrs. Doris Roe, Mrs. Rose Vincent, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Coffelt, Mrs. Mary Claire Ellward, Ken Askew, Mrs. Mary Ann Drysdale and Ms. Marie Reum.

In compiling information for the class' current biography, it was found that four of the women members were already grandmothers and that four classmates were parents of six children each.

In checking over the various occupations chosen by the group, the list read like the handbook of a job placement bureau. Teachers, insurance agents, law enforcement personnel, an air traffic controller, minister, dance instructor, hospital administrator and various hospital specialists (lab technician, dietician, registered nurses, etc.)

Also secretaries, auto industry employees, real estate broker, U.S. Air Force officer, plumber, interior decorator, public utility workers, farmers, editorial assistant, and computer analysts.

Of particular timely interest was the manager of the engineering-development department supporting the Viking Mission to Mars and the upcoming Jupiter-Saturn project.

Movies of class parties, 1950's vintage, and those taken on the senior trip helped round out the evening for the BHS alumni.

Linda Maki is fall bride-elect

A fall wedding at Faith United Methodist Church in Denton is being planned by Linda Joyce Maki of Belleville and Terry E. Taylor of 1593 Miller Rd., Ann Arbor.

MISS MAKI

Mr. and Mrs. George Maki of 10484 Quirk Rd., Belleville, are announcing their daughter's engagement and wedding plans.

A Belleville High School alumna, class of 1974, Miss Maki is currently employed as a sales clerk at K-Mart in Lakewood Shopping Center.

Her fiancé is the son of Robert B. Taylor of Ann Arbor and Mrs. Bruce Berry of Los Banos, Calif. He graduated from Tulare (Calif.) Union High School and the College of the Sequoias in Visalia, Calif. and is a former University of Michigan student.

Dental auxiliary fashion show set for Weber's Inn

With a theme of "Autumn Highlights", the Women's Auxiliary to the Washtenaw District Dental Society will present a fashion show, Oct. 13, at 1 p.m. at Weber's Inn, Ann Arbor.

Jacobson's will provide the fashions and Lucy Dobson of radio station WPAG will do the commentary. King's Keyboard House will provide the background organ music. A variety of French pastries, coffee and tea will be served prior to the show. Door prizes will be awarded during the show. Models will be members of the auxiliary and their children.

Proceeds from the show are the only means of support for the Children's Dental Clinic which was founded in 1952 and presently is located at Mack School in Ann Arbor. County dentists volunteer their time to treat needy elementary school children who are referred by their school nurses.

Members of the Washtenaw Dental Hygienist Association also do volunteer work at the clinic. The Women's Auxiliary provides funds for one dental assistant, equipment and supplies. Children treated at the clinic pay nominal fees to help defray the cost of supplies.

Tickets at $3.50, which are tax deductible, may be ordered from Mrs. Kenneth Carpenter, at 971-1762, from other auxiliary members and at the door.

A pretty finale

The popularity of pudding is no surprise, especially when you use your imagination with a few flavorful variations. Using instant pudding and pie filling as a start, this dessert features tasty additions of pineapple juice and

Puddings plain and fancy

Ask today's cook what her favorite pudding recipe is and you'll get a staggering variety of answers. Why? Because a package of instant pudding is the basis of a whole range of quickly made desserts.

For example, a pudding can be a luscious pie filling, a fanciful frozen treat, a tender moist cake or the star of such delights as Pudding Exquisitely. While this latter dessert is pudding, it's made a bit more special, nourishing and flavorful with sour cream and pineapple juice. The garnishes offered give each family member the chance to have a customer made dessert — choose from chopped nuts, mandarin orange sections or toasted coconut. Other ways with this basic mixture are to blend in crushed pineapple and coconut or fold in some miniature marshmallows.

A classic in any dessert file is a floating island; the one presented here has the hint of coffee flavor. What a nice way to end a "special meal."

Be sure to sock your cupboard with plenty of Jell-O instant pudding and pie filling — the old favorites like vanilla, lemon and coconut cream as well as the newer ones — pistachio and butter pecan — so that you can create a wide variety of puddings, plain and fancy.

Pudding Exquisitely

1 package (4-serving size) banana cream, coconut cream, lemon, vanilla or French vanilla instant pudding and pie filling

1 cup (½ pt.) sour cream
1 cup milk or unsweetened pineapple juice
1 tablespoon sugar
Dash of salt

Combine all ingredients in a bowl; beat slowly with hand beater or electric mixer about 1 minute, or until well blended. Chill. Spoon into dessert dishes or serving bowl.

Garnish with maraschino cherries, mint leaves, tasted flaked coconut, mandarin orange sections or chopped nuts, if desired. Makes about 2-¼ cups or 4 servings.

Pineapple-Coconut Pudding. Prepare Pudding Exquisitely as directed with pineapple juice, folding in 1 can (8-¼ oz.) crushed pineapple in syrup, drained, and 3 tablespoons flaked coconut (optional) before chilling.

Marshmallow Pudding. Prepare Pudding Exquisitely as directed with milk, folding in ¼ cup miniature marshmallows and 3 tablespoons flaked coconut before chilling.

Coffee Floating Island

3 cups cold milk
1 package (4-serving size) vanilla instant pudding and pie filling

2 tablespoons sugar
1-½ teaspoons instant quality coffee
¼ teaspoon salt
1 egg white
2 tablespoons sugar

Pour milk into bowl. Add pudding mix. 2 tablespoons sugar and the instant coffee. Beat slowly with hand beater or at lowest speed of electric mixer until well blended, about 2 minutes. Pour into serving bowl or individual dishes. Let stand about 5 minutes, until set. Just before serving, beat egg white until foamy throughout. Gradually beat in 2 tablespoons sugar and continue beating until meringue will form stiff shiny peaks. Top pudding with spoonfuls of meringue and garnish with slivered orange rind, if desired. Makes about 3-one-third cups or 6 servings.

'Coffee and Comment' sessions planned at 'Y' for November

The YWCA of Western Wayne County is sponsoring four "Coffee and Comment" sessions to be held at the Garden City Presbyterian Church, 1841 Middlebelt Road, Garden City. The sessions will be held Tuesday mornings, 9:30 — 11:00 a.m. Nov. 1, 8, 15, and 22.

Ms. Sylvia Walworth a counselor currently on staff at Dearborn — Downriver Growth Center, Allen Park, will conduct the first two sessions. Her area will be "Don't Say Yes When You Want to Say No".

Ms. Walworth, who earned her master of arts degree in guidance and counseling at Wayne State University, has a broad background in all aspects of growth and development. She will discuss behavior which can lead to being an effective parent, committee member, mate and consumer.

Bob Scanlon will conduct the sessions on Tuesdays, Nov. 15 and 22. His topic, entitled "Whatever You Say, It's O.K." will be an informal introduction to transactional analysis. Again, these principles can be applied at home, on the job, or in the neighborhood. Scanlon, who earned his master of arts degree in guidance and counseling at the University of Detroit is a clinical member of the Transactional Analysis Association. He is presently the clinical director of the Growth Center in Allen Park.

The total cost of the four sessions is $3.50. Free babysitting is available. For information or reservations call YWCA of Western Wayne County; 561-4110.

Romulus teen receives Sweetest Day Happiness Award from Kiwanis No. 1

A 14-year-old Romulus girl, Lisa Ann Lehmann, was among 25 Detroit area individuals to be honored with the 1977 Happiness Award from the Detroit Kiwanis Club Number One.

In Detroit each year, Kiwanis Number One and members of the metropolitan business community sponsor the Sweetest Day Happiness Awards to honor those people who unselfishly give of themselves to help the less fortunate — the aged, sick, handicapped and orphaned.

The recipients of these awards are chosen for special kindness to friends, neighbors or family and volunteer acts on behalf of community and social service agencies. Also taken into consideration is the amount of personal sacrifice involved and the number of people benefitting.

Nominations are made by United Foundation agencies, over 1200 members of the Council of Churches, mayors of the Detroit metropolitan communities and the public.

Mrs. Dolores M. Lehmann of Romulus nominated her daughter, Lisa Ann, as the "sweetest person in my life."

Mrs. Lehmann has been ill for the past two years with asthma and emphysema. During this time Lisa Ann has taken over the house. She shops, cleans, cooks and does everything else that her mother cannot do. She also babysits to earn extra spending money and to purchase her school clothes.

"She never complains and I think she is a beautiful person," her mother added.

With the help of local dignitaries and celebrities, the 25 Happiness Awards were presented Oct. 4 at the Kiwanis luncheon meeting at the Detroit Yacht Club.

Sweetest Day was started more than 30 years ago by Herbert Birch Kingston, a Cleveland candy company employee, who wanted to bring happiness and joy into the lives of the city's orphans, shut-ins and other individuals who were often forgotten and neglected.

With the help of friends and neighbors, Kingston distributed candy and other small gifts to the underprivileged as a token remembrance that somebody cared for them.

On the first Sweetest Day, movie star Ann Pennington supplied 2200 Cleveland newspaper boys with boxes of candy as a token of gratitude for the service they were providing to the public. Simultaneously, another then popular movie star, Theda Bara whose film was playing at the local Cleveland Theater, gave boxes of candy to all those who came to the theater. After the performance, she proceeded to distribute 10,000 boxes of candy to people confined in Cleveland hospitals.

During the years that followed, other Clevelanders began to participate in the celebration ceremony which came to be called "Sweetest Day." In time, the idea of spreading cheer to the underprivileged was broadened to include everyone and became an occasion for remembering others with a kind act or a small remembrance.

Sweetest Day is now celebrated on the third Saturday in October throughout the country.

YWCA 'Ladies Travel Day Out' set for Plaza Hotel, art institute trips

The first destination of the Ladies Travel Day Out will be to the Detroit Plaza Hotel. On Oct. 19 the bus will leave from the YWCA of Western Wayne County between Beech Daly and John Daly at 10 a.m. and will return by 3 p.m.

A sightseeing tour of the Plaza has been planned with ample time to browse throughout the shops.

Reservations have been made at the Summit at noon for lunch. The Summit features several hot and cold entrees, appetizers, cocktails and desserts.

Reservations for the trip should be made by Oct. 14 to insure a successful day.

The second destination in the series of Ladies Travel Day Out will be to the Detroit Institute of Arts on Nov. 16. Bus departures and arrivals will be the same.

Lunch at the Institutes Renaissance Cafe will be followed by a guided tour of European art. A service fee to cover transportation will be $2.50 for one outing or $4 for both. This program is open to all YWCA members. Membership fee is $6. Lunch costs are not covered in either fee.

Reservations for this trip will be taken at the YWCA until Nov. 11.

To make reservations phone 561-4110 or stop in.

MR. AND MRS. RON PINTER

Pinter-Banotai repeat vows at St. Paul's Lutheran Church

Two Lincoln High School graduates who are affiliated with their parents' greenhouse businesses were united in marriage Sept. 24 at St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Church of Belleville.

The merger of the families occurred when Rosemary Banotai and Ron Pinter exchanged wedding vows and rings before some 250 relatives and friends and The Rev. Walter L. Henning.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Banotai of 6981 Rawsonville Rd., Belleville, Rosemary has worked with her family at Banotai's Greenhouse while Ron, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pinter, is part of his family's operations at Pinter's Greenhouse, Inc. Both businesses are located on Rawsonville Road.

For the five o'clock nuptials, the altar was appointed with yellow roses and orange daisies. Music for the occasion was sung by Mrs. Betty Jean Burgett.

Entering the church with her father, the bride appeared in a traditional white gown designed with long, sheer sleeves, an oval neckline and Queen Anne collar, all enhanced with Venice lace. The A-line skirt extended from the high rise waistline to form a cathedral train as she walked.

A crescent headpiece of matching Venice lace secured the bride's lace-trimmed veil which fell to cathedral length. For contrast the bridal bouquet was comprised of pink antheriums, stephanotis, variegated ti leaves, dracena leaves and galax leaves.

Five attendants preceded the bride and her father up the aisle. Cecelia Banotai of Belleville was her sister's maid of honor and bridesmaids were Helen Banotai of Belleville and Sharon Ware of Southgate, both cousins of the bride; Patti Zimmer of Ypsilanti, and Debbie Pinter of Belleville, sister of the bridegroom.

The honor attendant was dressed in a yellow chiffon bustled gown while the remainder of the bridal coterie appeared in identical apricot ensembles. Their wide brimmed hats matched their gowns and they carried parasols accented with yellow roses, peach daisies and baby's breath which later detached and were worn as wrist corsages.

Carrying out the apricot-yellow theme of the wedding was the little floral chiffon frock which Angela Coe, the 7-year-old flowergirl wore. She, too, had a yellow picture hat and little parasol with yellow sweetheart roses and daisies attached.

Ringbearers were Scott Pinter, the 7-year-old son of the junior Harry Pinters, and Timmy Pinter, the 6-year-old son of the Joe Pinters.

The bridegroom asked his brother, Bob Pinter of Belleville, to serve as best man. Others on the esquire side were Larry Pinter, Joe Pinter, Harry Pinter Jr. and Joe Banotai Jr., all brothers of the bridal couple.

The Knights of Columbus Hall in Wayne was reserved for the reception which followed. The 500 guests were greeted by Mrs. Banotai in the floor-length mint green chiffon gown and Mrs. Pinter, the bridegroom's mother, in a fuchsia chiffon formal. Both were honored with orchid corsages.

Since returning from a 2-weeks honeymoon in Florida, the newlyweds have taken up residence at 7010 Rawsonville Rd., Belleville.

The rehearsal party was hosted by the bridegroom's parents at their home on Rawsonville Road.

At dinner party

OES marks 87th birthday

The 87th birthday dinner of Belleville Chapter No. 73, Order Eastern Star, was held at the Masonic Temple Wednesday evening, Oct. 5.

The address of welcome was given by Past Matron Katherine Spring and the response by Marjorie Gifford, Worthy Matron of Westgate Chapter No. 466. The Worthy Matron of Dearborn Chapter No. 421 gave the invocation.

Distinguished guests present who were introduced were: Associate Grand Patron Anthony Malacos, Grand Conductress Janet Cheney; Grand Soloist, Norma Johnston; Grand Representative to Arkansas, Norma Dunn; Life Members, Honorary Members, Matrons and Patrons of other chapters, Past Matrons and Past Patrons, Mother Advisor of Rainbow for Girls, Rose Ann Welt, Past Grand Organists Sally Wallace and Evisia Hazel and Grand Committee Member, Ora Holt.

Five members of Belleville Chapter were made Life members — Bedia Woods, Bertha Potts, Effie Kerbyson, Hazel Thayer and Howard Shaffer; two others who were not present were Viola Reed and Dorothea Shaffer.

You can't find us?

Guess we just take for granted that people will automatically know where the Belleville Enterprise-Romulus Roman offices are located.

But last week a gentlemen, bringing in a very nice news item, told us he had a heck of a time locating the office (not having an address with which to work.)

For those not familiar with the city of Belleville, here's a little help for future trips. We are at 116 Fourth Street, right in the heart of the city. The new NBD building is to our left (with Roys Street separating us) and the old NBD structure is to our right (with Fourth Street as a divider.)

We are in the old Van Buren Township Hall, which sits on a little block of its own, sharing acreage with the Van Buren Township Fire Station and a municipal parking lot.

We really AREN'T tucked away; it just takes a turn right or left off Main Street (depending on which direction you're heading) to be at our door (the side entrance, don't forget.)

Drop in and see us, we have a very nice office with some very nice personnel including the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce twosome.

Tips for 'the cook'

If you're a homemaker-career woman, you probably feel like Dr. Jekyll and Ms. Hyde. Make dinner time easier and you'll avoid that schizophrenic feeling caused by doing two difficult jobs. Here's how: 1) Cook in quantity and freeze ahead for another meal. 2) Become an expert at preparing one-dish nutritional casseroles. 3) Use Teflon-II cookware with the improved nonstick coating that speeds after dinner clean-up chores. 4) Don't be too proud to ask your family for help.

Fall plans centered on visit to Scotland

By Mrs. Joseph Spring
699-4021

Mrs. William Graham of Liberty Street returned home on Oct. 1 after having spent the past month visiting relatives in Scotland. Landing at Prestwick she was met by a cousin, Emily Robson, with whom she spent some time touring the border countries, visiting her husband's relatives in nearby places and in Edinburgh.

While at Edinburgh, they visited Carthie Church and saw Queen Elizabeth and the royal family who attend services there while staying at Balmoral Castle. They also attended the Tattoo at Edinburgh Castle.

Then it was on to Perth where she met her sister, Miss Lillios MacGregor, and spent a few days with cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Ross; then north to Inverness where she visited her 85-year-old sister, Miss Marjorie MacGregor. Taking the train to London and Norwich, she spent a week there before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Orr of Harmony Lane returned home recently after spending a week in Northern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula. On Friday, Sept. 24, they attended the wedding of their son, Larry Orr, to Diane Evans at the First United Methodist Church at Paradise and the reception following the service.

Three days were spent with friends at Forest Lake near Marquette, former Liberty Street residents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Beyer. Enroute home they visited a brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Orr at Mullett Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Clayton of Bedell Street spent last Thursday with the latter's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Burt Tillotson at Adrian.

Mrs. Amos Johnson of Roland Street was a patient at Beyer Hospital in Ypsilanti this past week after having undergone an emergency operation on Monday, Oct. 3.

Friday evening guests of Mrs. Dorothy Kellas of Margery Street were friends, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Willox with sons, David, Ian and Mathew of Westland, and Miss Mildred Mackey of Detroit. The Willox family had much to tell of their recent three weeks tour of Scotland.

Mrs. Muriel Smith of Liberty Street and sister, Mrs. Hazel Lindquist of Morrice spent last week with friends at Rennie Lake near Traverse City.

Ronald McKelvey, son of the Charles McKelveys of Bemis Road, left last week for Columbus, Ohio, where he will attend classes at the Ohio Institute of Technology.

Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Hasse and the latter's mother, Mr. s. W.F. Damske of Dearborn, were callers Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Damske's sister, Mrs. Joseph Spring of Liberty Street.

Mrs. Fred Mann of Rawsonville Road has been a patient at Beyer Hospital for several days this past week.

Friends, relatives honor Andrea Price

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

"Bath and kitchen" was the designation for the shower given Oct. 1 by Kimberly Price Warner for her sister, Andrea Jean Price, who's to be a December bride.

Some 18 guests, relatives and friends from Belleville, Plymouth, Ypsilanti and Roscommon, gathered at the Warner home on Edgemont Street for the festivities which centered around several bridal theme games. Houseplants were awarded to the lucky winners with the door prize going to the honoree's future mother-in-law, Sue Hall of Belleville.

When Andrea opened her many gifts she was assisted by the hostess (who's to be honor attendant at the wedding) and her junior bridesmaid, Tanya Hall.

Andrea and Kenn Hall have reserved Berean Baptist Church of Belleville for their Dec. 17 altar date.

The first weekend in October proved to be a busy one for Kimberly and Dennis Warner since the day after the shower they presented their infant son, Dennis John Warner II, for dedication at Zion Missionary Church in Belleville.

Pastor Michael Moser presided at the noon rite on Sunday, Oct. 2. Godparents for the new heir, who arrived Aug. 11 at Seaway Hospital in Trenton, were John Price and Andrea Price, the baby's uncle and aunt.

Among those attending the service were the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Price and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Warner, all of Belleville. The proud great-grandparents include Mrs. Pearl Ikens, Ray Ikens and Mrs. Emma Rhinehart.

Also presented for dedication that same day were Carol Lois Svacha, the daughter of Marlene and David Svacha, and Cameron Wojie, the son of Lori and Chet Wojie.

The Rydinskys — Allen, Sherryl, Robert and Adelynn — recently returned from an exciting 4-day trip to Illinois.

Allen met with his doctoral committee for his final orals and has now received his doctorate-in-secondary science curriculum supervision and public school administration from the University of Illinois.

After celebrating with friends in the Urbana-Champaign area, the Rydinskys traveled to Springfield where they were guests of Dr. and Mrs. William Becker. Mrs. Becker (Carolyn Weise Becker) is the artist whose pen and ink drawings were used as illustrations in "Water Under the Bridge", the Van Buren Township history and the Bicentennial stationery series.

The Rydinskys will cap off the degree celebrations with an Octoberfest later this month at their Van Buren Township residence.

He's called Taj Omar

The birth of their first child, a son, is announced by Jack and Minnie Bizzell who reside in the Amberwoods Townhouses in Taylor.

Arriving at 8:42 a.m. Sept. 15 at Annapolis Hospital in Wayne, the infant weighed 6 lbs., 7 ozs. and measured 20 inches in length.

Titled "Taj Omar", he is the grandson of Linnie and Jack Bizzell of Alabama.

Mmm, yes, and an important and enjoyable to eat food, too — even for dieters. Sure, it has calories, but so does everything but water and air. On the plus side, it also satisfies the craving for "something solid" and it supplies the carbohydrates your little gray cells demand to help you think straight. Carbohydrates also provide the energy you need to perform your daily work.

When Marie Antoinette said "let them eat cake", she forgot that more people love bread than that sweet stuff. And while non-dieters tend to blame bread for the fat of the world, the diet professionals know that it is truly the dieter's friend. That's why almost all diet programs have been expanded to permit not only enriched white bread, but whole wheat bread with its satisfying crunch, rye bread with its affinity for meat and mustard, and the variety of rolls, breads and loaves made from combinations of cereal grains.

That's the good news from the world of diet. Bread in itself is important to everyone's eating for the satiety factor and the nutritional plus. Now for the bad news. Eating one more roll a day than your body requires can add 10 lbs. to your frame in a year. Of course, this is true of any food which is in excess of your body's ability to burn up, but bread is especially easy to eat.

For your lunch break, here's a clever twist on a broiled sandwich:

Salmon Sandwich

- 1 ½ ounce canned salmon
- 1 teaspoon mustard
- 2 slices thin diet bread, whole wheat, toasted
- 3 ounces cottage cheese
- 1 small can asparagus, drained

Mix salmon, cottage cheese and mustard together. Drain asparagus well. Place asparagus on toast slices, top with salmon-cheese mixture. Run under broiler for a few minutes.

Commuters could get buses

Bus service may be extended to Belleville and Romulus so that commuters can get to and from work in downtown Detroit, according to a commitment made by officials of the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA) to Wayne County Commissioner Royce E. Smith of Belleville.

Smith had criticized the proposed 1979 Annual Public Transportation Plan because "there was no bus service between downtown Detroit and the cities of Romulus and Belleville and Sumpter and Van Buren townships."

He was joined in this appeal by Commissioners Edgar L. Harris of Taylor, Thomas Presnell of Westland, Alex Pilch and George Hart of Dearborn and Mary Dumas of Livonia, who also asked for expanded service to Western Wayne County communities.

Smith asked SEMTA officials to review the proposed bus plan and include bus transportation between these communities and downtown Detroit, especially during peak periods of travel in the morning and evening when "they need to get to their jobs, shopping and other destinations."

He made his request at a meeting of the Public Works Committee of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners Sept. 27, at which several Western Wayne County commissioners commented on the need for "improved bus service in out-

SEMTA official John Sajovec, manager of Bus Service Planning, told Smith that "they will look into the possibility of extending the route now ending in Wayne to Belleville".

"There is the possibility that we could provide at least one bus in the morning and evening hours during the work week," Sajovec said.

"I feel this could easily be done by adding another 25 minutes to the present schedule," Smith responded.

Sajovec and Harry L. Rogers, manager of SEMTA's Program Management Office, told Smith and other county commissioners that they would get back to them with an answer as soon as possible.

SEMTA officials said that it takes up to a year to get new buses due to heavy administrative work required in getting grant approvals, not to mention the delivery time after the order is placed.

Sajovec added: "It will be at least two years before new buses are available to us, and any new buses acquired in the immediate future must go toward replacement of present ones that are wearing out."

He said SEMTA couldn't expand service now without cutting service somewhere else.

The officials did promise to "sincerely consider all proposals."

North stands in Glenn title path

Now it comes down to one football game.

And what a game it should be between once-defeated Westland John Glenn, the defending Northwest Suburban Conference champ, and North Farmington, sixth-ranked Class A state power and 5-0 on the season.

The two will square off 2 p.m. Saturday at North Farmington High.

"North Farmington is the best team we will be playing this season," said Glenn Coach Chuck Gordon. "They have great team speed, don't make mistakes and I sincerely feel we're going to have to play our best game of the season in order to beat them."

Glenn warmed up for the showdown with an 28-0 victory over Redford Thurston, while North Farmington turned back Livonia Franklin.

The Westlanders had their problems with the stubborn Eagles in the first half. Though they had excellent field position thanks to running back Tim Ruark and a couple of over-the-head catches by Jim Irwin, the stubborn Thurston defense didn't yield.

Glenn broke the game open in the third quarter when Ruark scored the first of his three touchdowns. He rang up his first on a two-yard run early in the second half, then came back with another two-yarder and finished the night with his third TD on a one-yard lunge.

Fullback Paul Svabik accounted for the final Rocket score, a two-yard run in the last quarter.

Kal Deluca made good on all four extra-point attempts.

Ruark, who has been the mainstay of the Glenn ground game, rushed for 86 yards on 25 carries. Svabik's contribution also included 61 yards on 12 tries, while Lee connected on six of 11 passes for 80 yards.

Most of the holes that the running backs got through were opened up by the efforts of guards Perry Lapinen and Ken Hylton, while the defense, which held the Eagles to 28 yards total, was sparked by Jerry Cook, Svabik, and middle guard Jim Hendrian.

"We just couldn't seem to get things moving offensively against them in the first half," explained Gordon. "We made a couple of adjustments during halftime and they obviously paid off."

The victory was Glenn's second in the league and fourth straight. The Rockets' lone loss is to Allen Park, sustained in the season opener.

Though both North and Glenn are undefeated in the conference, North is atop of the standings with a 3-0 record. Only Glenn stands between them an undisputed possession of the 1977 title.

Glenn, meanwhile, must get past North and will have Franklin to contend with the following week. Franklin will be keeping an eye on the North-Glenn game — if Glenn wins the Livonians could get a third-share of the championship by beating the defending champs on Oct. 21.

"We control our destiny," Gordon said. "We must beat them. No one else has a shot at North."

Glenn had 15 first downs, 246 yards rushing, 80 passing and 5 yards in penalties Friday night against Thurston, while the Eagles managed to chalk up but two first downs, 28 yards rushing and minus nine passing.

Black belts and belles

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

Chris Ahern is a petite, unimposing young woman who would never attract anyone's attention for her physical strength.

She stands about 5 feet 3 at the most and, in sharp contrast to Ronald Rose, a well-built, good-looking athletic-type man in his prime.

If one were to say that Chris would pick up Rose and whirl him over her back and slam him to the floor, it would probably draw just a smile from my face.

Probably?

The inauspicious Miss Ahern on a command from Rose suddenly appeared to whirl like Diane Prince and the "wonder woman" picked up her instructor and slammed him to a carpeted floor.

"It takes a little training," said Miss Ahern as she helped Rose, who owns a Black Belt in Karate, off the floor, "but you don't need a lot of strength to do what I just did."

Miss Ahern is one of the devoted followers of Tae Kwan Do, the Korean Art and Science of self defense. It is an ancient art of improvement one's self through training of mind and body, Miss Ahern explains.

"I got involved a few years back," Miss Ahern related. "While I was watching two nine-year-old girls be tested for black belts I was amazed at what they could do."

"They had no sense of fear, so I said to myself if they can do it I can too."

Miss Ahern's path led to Rose who started training in Taylor under master Edward Sell, who happens to be the highest ranking non-oriental karate expert in the world.

Sell, president of the Tae Kwon Do Clubs and studios throughout the United States, provided Rose with the knowledge and training that helped him become a second degree black belt.

The skill and proficiency of one who participates in the art is determined by the color of one's belt. Beginners usually don white belts and the color spectrum continues to green, brown and hopefully black. There are nine degrees of the black belt but the final two are usually reserved for honorary personage.

Rose, a graduate of Taylor Kennedy, has competed in national tournaments and recently nine of his 11 students placed at a tournament hosted by Dearborn. Rose himself captured a first place trophy in the black belt (form) division.

"You can either compete in form or sparring," Rose said, "and, of course, competition also runs along the line of age and sex."

One of Rose's ambitions was to open up a studio of his own and recently he accomplished that goal when he opened the doors to the Wayne Karate Studio at 2913 Wayne Road.

"I've always dreamed of owning a studio of my own so that I could become a full-time instructor and I managed to do this with this studio."

Rose has a score of loyal fans who travel from the downriver area to Wayne for lessons. In one of his classes you can find a motley crew made up of Frank Kramarz, Terry Santure, Paula Jackson and Debra Stamey.

Miss Stamey and Miss Ahern belonged to the original Tato Taylor Terrors, a club which competed in karate.

Kramarz will probably wind up as one of the more popular members of the school. Rose poured the superlatives in describing his student's progress.

"Frank has been training for less than 1½ months and he double tested at a tournament which, in layman's language means he skipped a rank. He placed first in the white belt form competition and also in white belt sparring."

"He is a very devoted student of the art," Rose added.

The classes, held Monday through Friday from noon to 2 p.m. and Monday through Thursday from 7 to 9 p.m., also on Friday's from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. lure a variety of age groups.

"We have boys and girls as young as five and also senior citizens in our classes," Rose said. "Why don't you join us?"

The weaker sex?

Petite Chris Ahern, who is all of 5 feet 2 inches shatters a couple of images about the "weaker sex" thanks to karate lessons. Miss Ahern flipped instructor Ronald Rose, who owns a black belt in the sports, to prove that karate could be a valuable asset not only to keep in mentally and physically but also for self-defense.

What a difference a couple of weeks makes.

After losing their first cross country dual meet in the Western Six Conference in seven years, Churchill has come back into the title race.

Coach Dave Westover's runners got by Farmington Harrison 25-30 to build up their conference record to 2-1 and their over-all mark to 4-1 on the season.

"We improved quite a bit," Westover said, "and we're going to have to continue to do likewise if we are to retain the title."

Churchill has been the only conference champ in the league's seven year history and the Chargers are seeking an unprecedented eighth title.

Tobin Jones and Dennis Flamme led the Chargers against Harrison as the two provided the winners with first and second places. The winning time was 16:15.

Bob Stansberry was fourth, Kevin Paul, eighth and Steve Yerks, ninth, for Churchill.

Churchill will return to league action on Thursday against Waterford Mott after competing in the Redford Union Invitational on Tuesday.

Down but not out

Crashing landing with this reception is John Glenn's Jim Irwin who managed to make a couple of spectacular catches against Thurston Friday night. The Rockets and a homecoming crowd celebrated a 28-0 victory over their visitors which moved them into position to challenge North Farmington for the Northwest Suburban Conference lead.

The T-Birds are coming

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

One ordeal is over.

And, Saturday night, a second and may be even greater threat to Plymouth Salem's bid for Suburban 8 Conference and Region II playoff supremacy may emerge in the ominous form of Dearborn Edsel Ford.

Digging into his satchel of tricks last Friday, Rock coach Tom Moshimer came up with the right combinations to jar Trenton 19-7 and remain undefeated in six games, (five in the league) this season.

Trenton, hailed as a possible heir-apparent to Midland Dow's Class A state title, succumbed to elusive Salem quarterback Doug Hewlett, the wishbone and a rugged Rock defense.

The Trojans toppled in the first quarter as the Rocks pelted their conference rivals with two touchdowns and had one called back on them — a 25-yard jaunt by Chris Ritchey because of an illegal procedure infraction.

Salem then buried their foes with a bludgeoning assault led by Hewlett, Doug Rowe and Ritchey which ended in a fourth quarter touchdown that put the game on ice.

"I felt we played well," said Moshimer whose mind now turns to the invading T-Birds due in town Saturday at 8 p.m. "We made some mistakes but we managed to play over them."

Of Edsel, Moshimer repeated what is an accepted fact: "That they are tough, well coached and don't make many mistakes. It definitely will be a tough ball game and a hard-hitting one at that."

Hewlett got the Rocks on the scoreboard midway in the first quarter against the Trojans as he culminated a 37-yard drive with a nine-yard touchdown run. Though Dave Basierbe missed the point after kick, the Rocks didn't waste anytime putting their second TD on the board.

In less than two minutes they struck again, and again it was Hewlett who, striking like a thunderbolt, pierced through the Trojan lines and didn't stop until he covered 63 yards for his second TD of the game.

Trenton kept the outcome of the game in doubt as they got on the scoreboard in the third quarter on a 12-yard run by Tom DeSana which polished off a 48-yard drive. The Trojans also picked up the point after to close the gap to five points.

Hewlett settled the issue when he hooked up with Mike Genrich on a 11-yard scoring pass that ended a 57-yard drive with 11:54 remaining in the game.

Hewlett accounted for 137 yards on 16 carries, while Rowe had 11 rushes for 57 yards and Rickey picked up 71 yards on 10 tries.

Torrential rains, muddy course can't stop Blaha or Zebras

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANPSports Editor

Torrential rains, a treacherous and slippery track and a field of nine area high school teams couldn't stop Wayne Memorial Saturday from claiming the 1977 Wayne Invitational Cross Country championship.

The misleading omens also didn't prevent Wayne's super senior, Rick Blaha from leading the pack over the 3-mile course and record a 15:39 victory.

"It was by far our best and Rick's finest efforts," said Wayne Coach Ernie Righetti whose Zebras remain undefeated on the season. "The unusual weather and the challenging circumstances had me worried but

Wayne garnered 23 points, the lowest team points by any team ever during the 13 year history of the meet. Five of the Zebra runners placed among the top 10 in the field which saw 66 finish the three-mile course.

Blaha jumped out in front at the starting line and was never seriously challenged the rest of the way. He set a gruelling pace, splashing through the rain-drenched terrain and up slippery inclines.

The Wayne senior, who hasn't been defeated this year, beat his closest rival by nearly 30 seconds. The second man to cross the finish line was Crestwood's Tim Barr who toured the course in 16:04.

Barr led Wayne runners Doug Tolson (16:07), Ron Mason (16:16) and Paul Spencer (16:20) to the wire.

Wayne also enjoyed a 58-point cushion over its nearest challenger, Dearborn Heights Crestwood which compiled 81 points, five less than third place finishing Belleville. Livonia Franklin and Westland John Glenn held down the fourth and fifth places with 99 and 118 points, respectively.

The format for the 1977 invitational was changed this year from a two division into a one division race. One of the reasons for the necessary change was that a couple of teams which traditionally compete in the meet had other commitments.

It's Parents' Night at Wayne Friday

Football scores can be very deceptive.

Like Lincoln Park's 35-14 triumph over Wayne Memorial Friday night. A Lincoln Park rout — right? Wrong.

Lincoln Park had more than it reckoned for as Coach Floyd Carter's Zebras stood up to the Railsplitters until the last five minutes of the game when they came out gambling and gave up two quick touchdowns.

Before those horrendous final minutes, Wayne was within reach of their hosts who had a 21-14 lead with 4:56 left in the game. Then, Norm Berry capped a 7-play, 47-yard drive with a one-yard touchdown plunge and brother, Joe Berry, scored from 16-yards out after an interception to put the game on ice.

"The score is misleading," Carter said. "True, we made too many mistakes, but that's because we have a young ball team. We also were playing one of the best ball clubs around."

"We showed that we have the ability to play with the best," Carter added.

Wayne, now 0-2 in the Great Lakes 3-2 over-all, awaits Monroe who'll make the trip to town in quest of its first league victory.

Carter warned though that Monroe's 1-4 over-all record is deceptive.

"I don't think their won-lost record is indicative of the kind of team they have," Carter said. "They have played some real tough teams and we're going to have to be ready for them."

Friday will also be Parents' Night at Wayne.

Scoreless the first quarter, Lincoln Park built up a 14-0 halftime advantage on a 32-yard scoring screen pass from Rob Davis to John Ray which culminated a 40-yard drive in seven plays. Wally Antovski kicked the extra points and finished up getting all five point-after.

Ray, considered one of the finest backs in the state, raced 65-yards for his second touchdown of the game with 6:47 left in the initial half. That run was preceded by two plays and a Wayne fumble.

Wayne cut into the lead early in the third period when Mark Korte guided the Zebras on a 63-yard drive in five plays after the kickoff.

Mike Lazarz went in from the six-yard line for the Zebra touchdown and Skip Walker kicked the extra point.

But Norm Berry gave the hosts some breathing room with his first TD of the evening that came from nine yards out after the Railsplitters capitalized on a bad center recovery.

Korte again got the Wayne offense all fired up in the fourth quarter and engineered a 5-play, 89-yard drive which ended with Korte's touchdown pass to Mark Zeron — good for 54 yards. Walker again made good on the extra point.

Chris Leverenz again had an exceptional game on defense for the Zebras as he intercepted one pass, counted nine solo tackles and five assists. Walker picked off a pass and contributed five tackles.

Pile up after touchdown

Getting to elusive John Glenn running back Tim Ruark isn't always easy even in the case above, when he's at the bottom of the pile. He wound up there after scoring his first of three touchdowns against Thurston which staked the Rockets to a 28-0 homecoming victory over their Northwest Suburban Conference rivals.

Last quarter rally fails

Huron offense comes alive, too late to stop Monroe CC

A late charge by New Boston Huron's Chiefs fell short Friday as Monroe Catholic Central held off their conference rivals, 28-21.

A circus of offensive plays highlighted the slugfest that was marred by several Huron turnovers. "It was definitely an offensive game," said Huron's Tom LaBeau. "They moved the ball on us and we moved on them, but we had several drives stopped by our mistakes."

"The difference was they capitalized on our mistakes, we didn't on theirs."

Dan Niel started the fireworks as he picked off a Randy Pichan pass and scored from 17 yards out to give Monroe a quick 6-0 lead.

But the Chiefs immediately countered on the ensuing kickoff. Mark Christensen broke loose for an 88-yard return, the longest touchdown of the season for the Chiefs.

Huron took command of a 7-6 lead when Pichan's kick found the uprights.

The score stood up for most of the half, until 1:57 left to intermission. That's when Monroe went ahead 12-7 on Mark Dusseau's 24-yard touchdown run.

New Boston came back in the third quarter to take the lead 13-12 when Pichan strung together a 65-yard drive that ended with Kelly Summerfield's 14-yard touchdown run. Greg Smith triggered the drive as he accounted for a huge hunk of the yardage. Smith finished with 134 yards on 21 carries for the night.

Pichan's try for the point-after was wide.

Monroe then put 16 points on the board before the Chiefs reply. CC's Brent Masserant nabbed a nine-yard toss from Greg Kapp for one of the touchdowns and Niel scored from the two-yard line for the final tally.

With less than a minute to go Smith ran 8-yards for the Chiefs' fourth period touchdown and he also contributed the two-point conversion.

Pichan attempted 11 passes and hit on two, but four were dropped by his receivers. The senior QB rushed for 51 yards on eight tries while Smith had his best day in the Chief uniform.

Huron has the dubious honor of visiting Carlson on their homecoming Friday night. LaBeau pointed out that "Carlson is a rapidly improving team."

"They beat Flat Rock last week and we both have a 2-3 record," LeBeau added.

Tigers discover they're in title race

Off to its best start in recent years, Belleville outran Suburban 8 Conference cross country rivals Plymouth Salem and Dearborn in a double dual meet last week.

The Tigers coasted past Salem 20-39 while turning back Dearborn 24-35.

"We're looking forward to the Edsel Ford meet," said Belleville Coach Dave Medley. "That will be a showdown for the conference lead."

Belleville and the T-Birds will clash on Oct. 20.

Steve Medvecz, a junior, gave the Tigers a second place in the dual meet as he trailed Dearborn's Tim Rauh across the finish line. Rauh's winning time was 16:22, while Medvecz was clocked in 16:29.

Belleville also placed fourth with

A dazzling passing performance by Allen Park's Gene Vacca who tossed for 208 yards shot down Belleville 35-6 in a Suburban 8 Conference football game Friday night.

The loss left Coach Pat Stokes' Tigers winless in four conference outings and 0-5 over-all on the season. With a homecoming crowd due to jam Belleville stadium Friday night, the Tigers will try to put the brakes to their losing skid.

"Vacca destroyed us," Stokes said. "We just couldn't stop his passing game."

The Allen Park quarterback connected on 15 of 19 passes for the 208 yards and he looked with scorn on any adjustment the Tigers made in the secondary to detour his missiles.

The Tigers averted the shutout with a second quarter touchdown by quarterback Tim Ellsworth who capped a 69-yard drive with a one-yard touchdown sneak.

Allen Park cashed in on early Belleville mistakes to get on the board in the first quarter. After receiving the opening kickoff, Belleville lost the ball on the second play from scrimmage on an interception at their own 33 yard line. The Jaguars moved to the five with the aid of two penalties and scored on Don Shirley's run.

Vacca then used the option to score the 2-point conversion.

A weak Belleville punt set up Allen Park's first of two TDs in the second period. The Jaguars got the ball at the 38 and in three plays advanced to the Tiger one. Vacca then picked out John Plecha in the end zone for the second score of the game.

Belleville made a bid to get in the game on the next series. Getting the ensuing kickoff on their own 45-yard line, Ellsworth put together a 15 play drive and drove to the Jaguar 11 where Ellsworth sneaked through for the touchdown.

Kelvin Patterson accounted for 39 of the 49 yards in the lone Belleville TD drive.

But before the half ended, Allen Park struck again and built up a 22-6 halftime lead on Vacca's 7-yard touchdown toss to Jim Doyle. A Vacca-to-Szczeny pass gave the winners their two point conversion. Vacca connected to Doyle for a 13-yard scoring pass in the third quarter and also cashed in on a Belleville fumble in the fourth frame for his final TD aerial of the game — a one-yarder to Plecha.

Belleville's "monsterman" Stan Johnson got most of the praise for any defense that the Tigers put up.

Westland Babe Ruthers honored

Westland City Council President Justine Barns congratulates Tom Potts, president of the Westland Youth Athletic Association, with a resolution honoring the organization's Babe Ruth team. The WYAA entry captured the 1977 state championship and the resolution commemorates the outstanding achievement by the local ball players.

Kick coverage costs Franklin a key game

Breaking down on kickoff and punt coverage proved costly for Livonia Franklin's football machine

the machine together as a highly-touted Sterling Heights is preparing to test the Livonians.

The breakdown cost Franklin the Northwest Suburban Conference lead and a 28-7 decision to North Farmington. North, by virtue of a 3-0 record has sole possession of first place, but the Raiders have a date Saturday to host Westland John Glenn (2-0), the defending champ.

"We made a couple of serious mistakes in our kickoff coverage," pointed out Vigna after the North confrontation. "And that cost us the game."

Down 28-7 at the half, Franklin held the undefeated North scoreless the third and fourth quarters which drew the following comment from Vigna:

"We're proud of our players. They didn't quit and played until the final whistle."

Jeff Cohen stunned the Patriots as he hauled in the opening kickoff and dashed 98-yards for a North touchdown. It was the longest return against Franklin's specialty team in recent years.

North's Tim Quinn then booted the extra point, lifting the visitors to a 7-0 lead.

Vigna and the Patriots should have seen the handwriting on the wall on their first play from scrimmage, a pass, which was intercepted by North. Though North wasn't able to move the ball, got it back in Franklin's next series when the host coughed up another miscue, this time a fumble.

Franklin got a break of its own. With 5:44 left in the first quarter, Paul Pietrzak conjured up a steal of his own and picked off a North missile on the 43. Then quarterback Mike Fry used up two plays before going to Dave Bowen on the third try.

Bowen hustled in a pitch and went 41 yards for what proved to be the only Franklin touchdown of the afternoon. Don Boka's kick for the point after tied the game up at 7-all.

But Franklin's short-lived ecstasy turned to sorrow as North's Mike Miller raced up the middle for 89 yards on the second play from scrimmage after the ensuing kickoff to score the go-ahead TD.

For all of three plays, Franklin had the ball in the next series which ended in a punt and Andy Salinas galloping 62-yards for North's third score of the quarter.

"We just gave them these touchdowns, then tried to get them back," moaned Vigna. "You can't spot any team three TDs and expect to come back on them."

Vigna singled out guard Chris MacLaren, tackles Gordie Wheeler and Mike Broome for playing a spirited game, "but, let me say this, if we don't iron out the kinks in the kicking coverage, it could be even worse against Sterling Heights," Vigna said.

Now hear this

Giving Dale Luke (6) a bit of knowledge before sending him into the game is John Glenn's head football coach Chuck Gordon (at right). The Rockets past their second Northwest Suburban test, cramming 14 points on the board in each of the final two quarters to shut out Thurston. In another one of those "must games", the defending champ will head for North Farmington Saturday to see which will remain atop of the standings.

Lara breaks Spartan cross country mark

Sixteen-year-old Ramon Lara is slowly but surely establishing himself as one of the finer distance runners in the area.

The Cherry Hill sophomore set a course record in finishing first for the Spartans against Dearborn Fordson last week. He covered the 3-mile course in a quick 15:14.

However, Lara's record setting performance wasn't enough as Coach Joe Grasley's runners bowed to their nonleague rivals 24-31.

The loss left Cherry Hill with a 5-2 over-all record. They will meet arch-rival, Garden City West on Thursday for their next Tri-River Conference meet and travel to Metropolitan Beech on Saturday to compete in the Bishop Gallagher Invitational.

"I'm very pleased with our performances against Fordson," said Grasley. "Fordson has a senior packed team and is one of the better teams in the area. I feel we have been making a lot of progress and if we can run closer in a pack we will have an excellent chance to qualify our team for the Class B state finals."

Grasley pointed out that his super sophomore's effort "established him as one of the better Class B runners certainly in the area if not the state."

Cherry Hill also received a fourth place finish from Keith Leverston against the Tractors. Leverston's 15:37 also shattered the old Spartan record.

Cherry Hill's Mike Michno was seventh (15:37), while Scott Johnston was ninth (16:14), Jim Bodner, tenth (16:20), while John Ireland and Kurt Smith were 11th and 12, respectively.

Earlier, Cherry Hill coasted past Dearborn Heights Riverside 20-37 for its second conference victory of the campaign.

Riverside's Gerry Donakowski crossed the finish line first with a record-setting 16:09 performance. He was followed by Lara who posted a 16:34 for the run. Other Spartan finishers included Michno, third, Leverston was fourth while Smith and Ireland wound up fifth and sixth, respectively.

Cherry Hill has won the last five versions of the league championship and is seeking and unprecedented sixth title.

Despite six school records, Wayne Memorial found itself on the shortend of an 88-84 girls' swimming meet decision against non-conference rival, Trenton, last week.

It was the first loss for Wayne Coach Jim McPartlin's swimmers.

"It was a good team effort by our girls," McPartlin said, "however, even though we set six school records it wasn't enough to beat them."

Trenton sewed up the victory by winning the final event, the 400-yard freestyle relay.

Wayne's foursome of Sandy Parker, Rene Whitson, Terri Discher and Gretchen Batterson captured the 200-yard medley relay with a record-shattering 2:08.1, while Miss Batterson, though she finished second, established a new school mark for the 200-yard freestyle (2:18.0).

Sandy Parker won the 50-yard freestyle for the Zebras with a 27.9 effort and Kelly Batterson churned a 1:01.2 for the 100-yard freestyle to win that event.

The loss left Wayne with a 2-1 over-all record. The Zebras took on neighborhood rival Westland John Glenn Tuesday night and will launch the defense of its Great Lakes 8 Conference championship at 4 p.m. Thursday at home to Fordson.

Saturday, at the Redford Union

Relays the Zebras moved up from last year's 11th place finish to sixth with 38 points. Salem captured the title with 79 points.

Wayne's Suzy Richardson and Tracy Battison combined for 183 points, two points out of the gold for the diving event. Trenton's JoAnne Aiello and Jill Calvin earned diving honors with 185.9 points.

Lofton is selected GVS Player of Week

It didn't take Mack Lofton long to make the adjustment to defensive end.

Moved from defensive tackle by head coach Jim Harkema of Grand Valley State Lofton, a 6-3, 205 junior from Robichaud, responded by teaming up with Bruce Hendricks to earn "Defensive Players of the Week" honors at Grand Valley.

Center Bob Beaudrie of Taylor Kennedy was selected "Offensive Player of the Week."

Lofton, a three-year starting defensive tackle was moved to the outside position for last Saturday's game with Northeastern Illinois.

He was credited with 12 solo tackles, four quarterback sacks and an overall 91 percent efficiency rating at his position.

Lofton also threw the key block that enabled defensive back Jamie Grignon of Dearborn to return an intercepted pass 83 yards for a touchdown. Grignon crossed the goal line as the first half ended to give Grand Valley a 13-6 lead.

Grand Valley evened its record at 2-2 with a 34-12 victory.

Hendricks, also a defensive end, received a 92 percent grade against Northeastern Illinois. The 6-3, 210 sophomore from Muskegon Mono Shores was credited with nine solo tackles and two quarterback sacks.

GC East shuts out Cherry Hill, 32-0

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor
Though seriously injured by the defection of some players and injuries to other, Cherry Hill discovered that Garden City East hasn't given up the ghost. East, buried in the cellar of the Northwest Suburban Conference, struck for two touchdowns in the second quarter and chalked up two more in the third en route to a 32-0 shutout over the visiting Spartans.

It was the first game between the two area high schools.

"We didn't play a football game," moaned Cherry Hill coach Jerry Pawloski. "We made a lot of mistakes and didn't capitalize on our opportunities."

Those opportunities included a couple of drives that took the Spartans deep into East territory in the first half, in fact, to the five before errors erased the threat.

East, handcuffed by injuries and missing a couple of blue chip players who left the school district when they learned the varsity athletic programs were to be wiped out because lack of money, (the programs were restored thanks to state aid), displayed its finest offensive machine of the campaign.

"I thought this was our best game," remarked East's Gary Humphrey, the school's athletic director, who was drafted for the head coaching job after Carl Stevens was forced to the sidelines because of economics.

"We got back our fullback (Brian Gibbs) who was injured in the opening game against West," Humphrey added.

Gibbs made a big difference. He paved the way for running back Jim Dzieken who chalked up 171 yards and scored one touchdown in 30 rushes. Gibbs also scored from the 6-yard line on a dive play.

East grabbed the lead in the second quarter when quarterback Randy MacDonnell who took over the job from the injured Joe Emery engineered a 40-yard drive that culminated in a two-yard touchdown sneak. Larry Kaminsky boot the extra point.

A MacDonnell-to-slotback Billy Morris pass that covered 9-yards accounted for the Panthers' second TD in that period.

Enjoying a 14-0 halftime advantage, the host padded their margin in the third quarter when MacDonnell connected a 50-yard pass and run play with Nick Mancini. Then, Gibbs pulled off the dive play, giving the Panthers an insurmountable 26-0 edge.

Dzieken scored in the final quarter on a nine-yard jaunt for the final East touchdown.

Pawloski praised the defensive performances of his tackle, Bob Tamm who counted seven solo tackles and had three assists, and also Darnell Green and Rick Searcy, the Spartans' two cornermen.

Scott Dawson went to the air 15 times and found receivers five of those attempts for 101 yards. Green was on the receiving end of most of those passes. Of the 113-yards the Spartans earned on the ground, Randy Fredericks had 59 on 15 carries.

Cherry Hill will return to the Tri-River Conference wars, heading for Garden City West Friday night. West, also off to a slow start, has won its last two games.

He's all right

There were some moments of concern for Glenn's Dan O'Brien (on the stretcher) who was injured during the game Friday night against Thurston and rushed to the Wayne County General Hospital. O'Brien reportedly suffered a slight concussion and recovered in time to ask his father to phone the field and see who was winning the game. The news was good on both fronts — Glenn won 28-0 and O'Brien should be back in the line up Saturday for the North Farmington game.

Ex-Inkster grid standout keys EMU offensive line

When Keith Arnold was a freshman in high school he was given a nickname that has followed him ever since. And although that name might be an insult to some, Arnold kind of likes the ring to the handle.

As a 300-pound freshman tackle at Inkster High, Arnold was called, "Ziffle", after Arnold Ziffle the pig in the television comedy called Green Acres. His senior teammate that gave him the nickname said he favored the pig and the name Ziffle stuck.

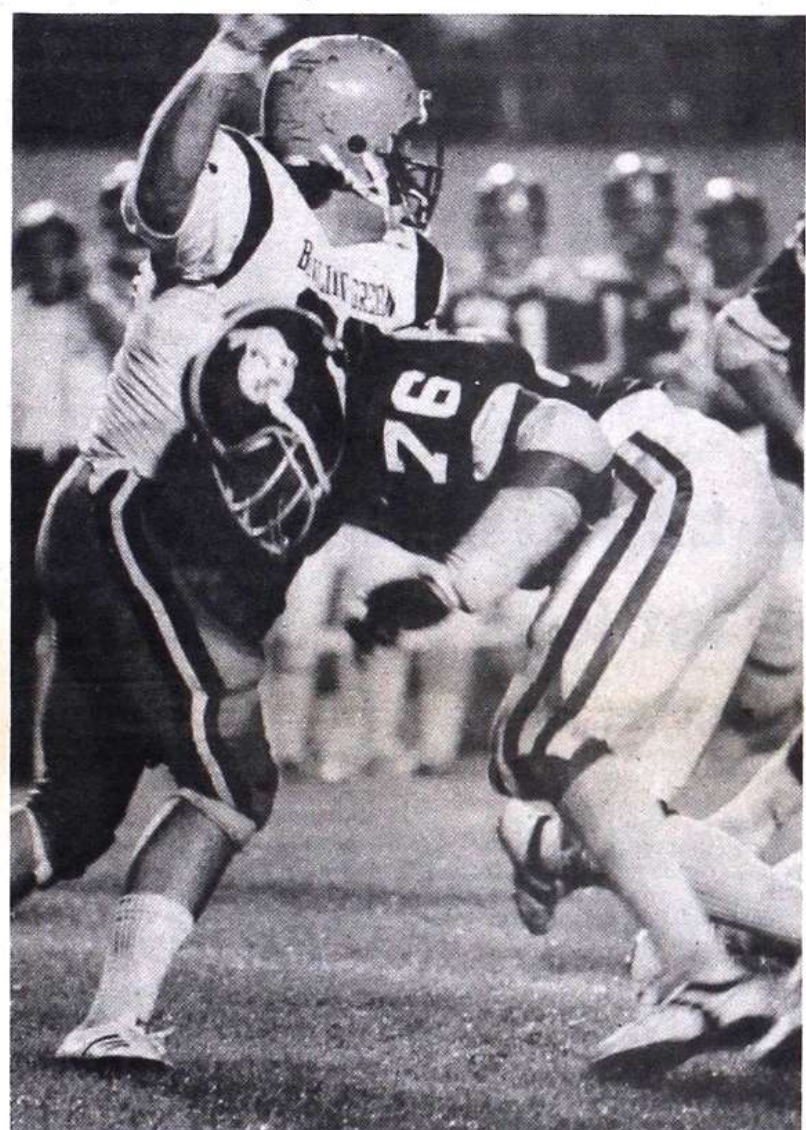

Arnold has changed his appearance drastically from those early high school days, now spreading 235 pounds across his 6-foot-plus frame, and the official nickname has been shortened to Ziff. "The name Ziffle kind of stuck with me and now I kind of like being called Ziff," Arnold confessed. "In fact I kind of prefer it."

While the nickname may seem

kind of funny to a lot of people, his opponents across the line fail to see humor in Arnold.

Arnold on the block

Keith Arnold, former Inkster High star, who is now wearing No. 76 at Eastern Michigan University, shows the proper blocking technique on a McNeese State player during a 9-7

Huron win earlier this year. Arnold, an offensive tackle, has been a strong force in helping the Hurons reestablish themselves as a winner on the gridiron.

Westland John Glenn broke up North Farmington's monopoly in the Northwest Suburban girls' swimming conference as Coach Jean Garbus's Rockets shot down the defending champs 90-82 last Thursday.

It was the first dual meet loss ever in the league for North which swept nine of the 11 events against Glenn, but didn't have the depth to match the Westlanders.

"This is the first time that we have ever beaten a North swim team," Mrs. Garbus said, "and we managed to win thanks to our depth. We had nine second places and 10 thirds and that was really the difference in the meet."

Glenn dominated the diving competition as Diane Bonarek led a Rocket sweep with 163.95 points. Janet Borgerding had 145 while Joan Bondy compiled 135.45 points.

Michele Kubiak presented North from sweeping all of the swimming events as she turned in a 1:01.5 to lead teammate Thelma Kew to the finish.

Glenn also turned back Livonia Franklin 93-79 in a conference dual meet last week.

AUTO

Kosin

How long should any given part of a car last? There can be no precise answer — no specific number of days, or years, or miles. A part's life span depends a great deal on how well the car has been treated: how regularly it has had checkups and tune ups, how it has been driven, and what kind of road and weather conditions it has encountered. But an owner has a right to expect that a part, with normal use, will endure for at least a minimum mileage. If your automatic transmission has logged 75,000 miles, for example, it would be wise to check it before undertaking a long trip.

Check your entire car over before the real cold weather sets in to make sure it is in good running condition! For the parts, tools and accessories you need to keep your foreign or domestic car running at its best, visit KOSIN'S AUTO PARTS, 26831 Michigan Ave., Inkster. Our beautiful new self-service display area allows us to give prompt, efficient and reasonably priced service. Do-it-yourself mechanics are invited to stop in for the parts and advice they need. Call KOSIN'S AT 563-3894. We are open daily from 8 A.M. until 8 P.M., and on Saturdays until 5 P.M. We also offer complete machine shop service for all types of engine work.

Make sure any shop that services your car has modern tools and up to date equipment.

Grissom's World

The 'slob' and the outdoors

By SAM GRISSOM
Outdoor Writer

Everyone expresses anger when we hear or read about some industry or municipality polluting our streams or lakes.

Who among us can look at any oil soaked duck without a feeling of anger and revulsion?

Public outcry and indignation has finally started bringing about improvements and stricter pollution regulations.

Even the Detroit River is getting to the point where it can be billed as "the world's largest trout stream" without stretching the point much.

Now that the tide is turning we still need to keep a watchful eye; and perhaps we should direct some of our effort toward the worst polluter and the biggest threat of all, the "slob sportsman."

With his indiscriminate disposal of trash, his disregard for the rights of others, and his total disrespect for wildlife management he is robbing all of us of our natural resources.

The "slob" takes illegal fish and game and the litter he leaves behind costs taxpayers millions to clean up. How he is capable of carrying 12 beers afield and incapable of carrying 12 empty cans back is amazing.

Unfortunately, where he causes his greatest pollution damage is to his own children. A stream littered with snagged salmon carcasses and disregard for nature and the rights of others is tragic.

Once while fishing at Thompson Creek in the UP I watched an elderly lady confront a group who had been throwing their empties into the small pool at the stream's mouth.

Several, who were in their late teens and early twenties, were quite abusive verbally toward her.

When the 30 fishermen turned en mass to come to her aid I realized how one courageous individual, when supported by us, can stop pollution and littering.

We all must become more courageous against the "slob" and that could stop his adventures in our woodlands and lakes.

Poaching, snagging, and littering are reaching epidemic levels.

The outdoors belongs to all of us. We must stand up for our rights. We need to ensure that our children have an outdoors to show to their children. They will learn from our examples.

Those hoods at Thompson Creek will still probably continue to litter, poach and snag at every given opportunity because in all likelihood their fathers did the same.

To them and many others, it's a game; but the stakes belong to all of us. The Department of Natural Resources will prosecute poachers and snaggers; the Michigan State Police will prosecute litterers, so write down hunting license numbers, names, dates, locations and car license numbers and turn them in.

If we want an outdoors to enjoy, fish in our streams, and game in our woods we must force everyone to "clean up his act."

MURDOCK DRAIN

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that, pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 20 of Act 40, Public Acts of Michigan, 1956, as amended, a petition was filed with the Drain Commissioner of the County of Wayne, Michigan, by the City of Westland, Michigan, requesting said Drain Commissioner to make certain county drainage improvements, the description, location and extent thereof to be as follows:

Things, together with certain necessary relocations, alterations, enlarging and other improvements and appurtenances, starting at a point in the Murdock Drain on the South side of the Palmer Road right-of-way approximately 400 feet West of the West line of Henry Ruff Road located in the Northwest 1/4 of Section 26, Town 2 South, Range 9 East; thence Easterly along the existing line of drain to a point where the drain turns; thence South approximately 50 feet, all located entirely within the limits of the City of Westland.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that the Drainage Board for said Drain has considered the said petition and made a tentative determination that the said petition is sufficient and that the said project is necessary for the public health and is a public use and project; has given the name "Murdock Drain Drainage District" to the drainage district therefor; and has made a tentative determination that the following public corporation should be assessed for the cost of said project, to wit:

CITY OF WESTLAND, Wayne County, Michigan, at large, for benefits to public health.

NOTICE IS FURTHER GIVEN that the Drainage Board shall meet on the 9th day of November, 1977, at 10:30 o'clock a.m., Eastern Standard Time, in the Westland City Hall, 36601 Ford Road, in the City of Westland, Michigan, for the purpose of hearing any objections to said project, to the petition therefor, and to the matter of assessing the cost to public corporation above named. AT SAID HEARING THE PUBLIC CORPORATION TO BE ASSESSED, OR ANY TAXPAYER THEREOF, WILL BE ENTITLED TO BE HEARD.

CHARLES N. YOUNGBLOOD
Chairman to the Murdock
Drain Drainage Board

Dated: September 28, 1977.
Published: October 6, 1977.
October 13, 1977.

To the Supervisor and Clerk of the Township of Canton, Wayne County, Michigan

Sirs:

You are hereby notified that the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, did, at a meeting of said Board held on September 15, 1977, decide and determine that the certain alleys described in the minutes of said meeting of said Board should be absolutely abandoned and discontinued as a public highway, reserving therein the easement set forth in said determination.

The portion of the minutes of said meeting fully describing said alleys is attached hereto and made a part of this notice, which is given under Act No. 283 of the Public Acts of 1909, as amended. In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand at Detroit, Michigan, this 22nd day of September A.D. 1977.

BOARD OF COUNTY ROAD COMMISSIONERS OF THE COUNTY OF WAYNE, MICHIGAN

Michael Berry, Chairman
Joseph M. Herron, Vice-Chairman
Freddie G. Burton, Commissioner
Armand J. Matte
Acting Secretary and Clerk of the Board

RESOLUTION

Commissioner Burton moved the adoption of the following resolution:

WHEREAS, pursuant to petition and in accordance with the provisions of Section 16, Chapter IV, Act No. 283 of the Public Acts of 1909, as amended, this Board, by resolution dated January 19, 1977, set a date of hearing on said petition and directed a Hearing Examiner to hold said hearing; and

WHEREAS, said hearing was held at the time and place appointed, and the Board has considered the findings of fact as reported by its Hearing Examiner concerning the advisability of absolutely abandoning and discontinuing:

The alleys, 20 feet in width, -- as dedicated to the use of the public in "McINTYRE MANOR" a Subdivision of the W. 1/2 of the N.E. 1/4 Section 15, T. 2 S., R. 8 E., Canton Twp., Wayne Co., Michigan, as recorded in Liber 61 of Plats on Page 68, Wayne County Records -- which lie in the rear of, or adjacent to, the following lots: 221 to 234 both inclusive, 339 to 352 both inclusive, and 421 to 545 both inclusive.

WHEREAS, the premises were viewed in accordance with said statute,

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that in the best interest of the public that the above-described county road or portion thereof be absolutely abandoned and discontinued and that said road or portion thereof is hereby absolutely abandoned and discontinued, reserving therein an easement for public utilities and sewer purposes.

The motion was supported by Commissioner Herron, and carried by the following vote:

Ayes, Commissioners Burton, Herron and Berry. Nays, None.

To the Mayor, Clerk and Superintendent of Public Works, City of Romulus, Wayne County, Michigan.

Sirs:

You are hereby notified that the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, did, at a meeting of said Board held on September 15, 1977, decide and determine that the certain street described in the minutes of said Board should be a County road under the jurisdiction of the Board of County Road Commissioners; the minutes of said meeting are hereby made a part of this notice, and are as follows:

Minutes of the regular meeting of the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, held at the Board's offices, 415 Clifford Street, Detroit, Michigan, at 9:00 A.M., Eastern Daylight Saving Time, Thursday, September 15, 1977. Present: Chairman Berry, Vice-Chairman Herron and Commissioner Burton.

Commissioner Burton moved the adoption of the following resolution:

BE IT RESOLVED by the Board of County Road Commissioners of the County of Wayne, Michigan, that the following described road be and it is hereby taken over as a county road and made a part of the county road system of the County of Wayne:

A road 60.00 feet wide in the S.E. 1/4 of Section 11 and the N.E. 1/4 of Section 14, T. 3 S., R. 9 E., City of Romulus, Wayne County, Michigan, the centerline of which is described as follows: Beginning at a point designated "A" on the north line of Section 14 distant N. 88 degrees 21'02" E., 870.91 feet from the N. 1/2 corner of Section 14 and proceeding thence N. 71 degrees 32'22" E., 332.94 feet; thence S. 18 degrees 23'22" E., 237.00 feet or more or less to the centerline of existing Goddard Road.

Beginning at the above mention point "A" and proceeding thence S. 71 degrees 36'38" W., 422.06 feet; thence S. 18 degrees 23'22" E., 263 feet or more or less to the centerline of existing Goddard Road, constituting a total of 0.243 mile of County Road, to be called Maintenance Drive.

The motion was supported by Commissioner Herron, and carried by the following vote:

Ayes, Commissioners Burton, Herron and Berry. Nays, None.

THIS NOTICE IS GIVEN UNDER AND BY VIRTUE OF ACT NO. 283 OF THE PUBLIC ACTS OF 1909, AS AMENDED.

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand at Detroit, Michigan this 22nd day of September A.D. 1977.

BOARD OF COUNTY ROAD COMMISSIONERS

Joseph M. Herron, Vice-Chairman
